PRESIDENT President's Message

Do You Know How to Get an Item Placed on the Board Meeting Agenda?

The Board encourages you to attend meetings and find out what is going on in your community.

David Steinman,
President, SCSCAI
Board of Directors

I have been asked many times about the method of getting a subject on the agenda for a meeting of the Board of Directors of Sun City Summerlin.

A subject to be discussed or acted upon must be sponsored by a member of the Board. Let us assume you wanted to see Sun City build a new facility within its borders to house residents who need assisted living and/or nursing care. We all know that, from time to time, there are many residents who need this service. However, you also understand that Sun City does not have the land available for such a facility. But, you want the Board to consider some land-use changes so the facility can be considered.

It would be necessary for you to approach members of the Board to explain your idea. If you could find interest among the Board, you would have to convince one of them to place the matter on an upcoming agenda. The president of the Board has the right to remove the item from the agenda if he/she does not feel it is a proper agenda item. This procedure is rarely used by the president.

Let us assume you have been unable to find a Board sponsor for your idea. Our agenda is mandated by state law to include two periods for comments from the residents. The first comment session is very early on the agenda, but it is limited to comments regarding matters on the agenda only. Each person is allotted 3 minutes. The second comment period is the last item before adjournment. During this section, residents may bring any comment they wish to direct to the Board on any topic. There is a 3-minute time limit for your comments.

The Board encourages you to attend meetings and find out what is going on in your community. In addition to new business and old business items, your Board agenda includes bid openings, a report from the executive director, as well as committee reports from each director assigned to a committee.

The Link always includes the phone number and e-mail address of your Board members. Feel free to call any of them with your comments and concerns.

CORRECTION

Summerlin's Oxford Park Not a Public Dog Park

The May issue's Pet Policy story listed five nearby dog parks adjacent to Sun City Summerlin where residents can let their dogs roam off leash. Oxford Park, located at 700 Anasazi Drive, was incorrectly included on the list. Oxford Park is a private park owned by the Summerlin Council and maintained through the monthly assessments paid by residents of Summerlin's master association. It is not a public dog park. The Link corrects mistakes. If you discover an error in reporting, please bring it to the attention of Jeannette Carrillo, Link managing editor, at jeannettec@suncitylv.com.

PREPAREDNESS Community Preparedness Committee

Take Precautions to Ward off Heath-related Illness

NEVER leave anyone in a closed, parked vehicle - not even for just a minute

Karl Wiedemann,
Chairman,
IT Committee

Air conditioning is the most vital influence to beat the heat. For that reason, those undeniable life-saving units should be serviced before brutal hot weather affects summer life in the desert. Oxygen-dependent residents might also keep a portable gas-powered generator in case an electrical outage interrupts their main oxygen supply source.

For instant relief from brutally hot temperatures, in Sun City, all four air-conditioned community buildings offer drinking water, comfortably furnished lobbies, restroom facilities and, most paramount, five immaculately maintained swimming pools for residents' use.

We suffer heat-related illness when our body is unable to compensate by properly cooling itself through sweating. In extreme heat, perspiring just isn't enough and in such cases, a person's body temperature can rise rapidly.

Because certain factors affect the body's ability to cool itself, we need to know who is at greatest risk. Older adults and people with chronic medical conditions are most prone to heat stress. Contributing factors include weight, dehydration, heart disease, mental awareness, poor circulation, sunburn, use of prescription drugs and alcohol consumption. Don't wait until you are thirsty to drink. Increase fluid intake by drinking cool beverages regardless of your activity level. During hot weather exposure, drink two to four glasses of water each hour. If your doctor generally limits the amount of fluid you drink or has prescribed water pills for you, ask how much you can safely drink when the weather is hot.

Outdoor activities in torrid temperatures: Golfers should carry plenty of drinking water for liberal consumption and use sun screen generously while they play. Dog owners should be cautious not to burn their pet's bare feet. If necessary, drive your dog to a grassy area to avoid walking it on hot sidewalks.

“Memphis” is set in the places where rock ‘n’ roll was born in the 1950s – the seedy nightclubs, radio stations and recording studios of the musically rich Tennessee city. With an original score, it tells the fictional story of DJ Huey Calhoun, a good ole local boy with a passion for R&B music and Felicia Farrell, an up-and-coming black singer who he meets one fateful night on Beale Street. Despite the objections of their loved ones (Huey’s closed-minded mama and Felicia’s cautious brother, a club owner), the pair embarks on a dangerous affair. As their careers rise, the relationship is challenged by personal ambition and the pressures of an outside world unable to accept their love. A concession stand is available for food and drink, or bring your own picnic basket. You may bring blankets or regular folding chairs, or rent a folding chair at the park for $1 each.

SPRING MOUNTAINS VISITOR GATEWAY RECREATIONAL AREA/SILENT HEROES OF THE COLD WAR NATIONAL MEMORIAL DOCENT TOUR AND SANTA FE CASINO

Saturday, July 23

Bus departs Pinnacle at 8:30 a.m., returns at approx. 2:30 p.m.

$20 per person includes transportation and docent-led tour

Breakfast prior to departure is advised, as well as comfortable walking shoes. You may bring snacks and water also. Lunch is not included in the ticket price. The Cold War was not only the longest and most costly war in American history, it also posed the greatest danger our country and the world ever faced. That America emerged victorious from the Cold War was due largely in part to those who worked in secret. Without their contributions, the Cold War could very well have had a different ending. The United States Air Force 9068 Memorial honors the 14 victims of the 1955 top-secret plane crash on Mount Charleston carrying an Air Force crew, Lockheed and Hycon engineers, CIA personnel and scientists bound for Watertown, now known as Area 51, to work on the U2 spy aircraft. The full story of the 14 men aboard and the U2 reconnaissance plane they helped build remained classified for more than 40 years. Also classified as top secret was the account of the men who risked their lives while braving subzero temperatures at the 11,500-foot elevation to attempt a rescue. Over four decades later the formal dedication of this memorial, with dignitaries and families, took place on May 29, 2015. Chairman of Silent Heroes, Steve Ririe, will lead this informative and intriguing tour.

Transportation to all events is provided. All bus trips depart from the Pinnacle parking lot, east of the softball field, near the posted signs. Unless otherwise specified, driver gratuity is not included in the ticket price. Tickets may be purchased at Desert Vista, Mountain Shadows and Pinnacle community centers; cash or checks only. No credit cards.

BAND NIGHT

SUPPORTING LIVE MUSIC With COMMUNITY SPIRIT

— By Jeannette Carrillo/link

Talk about an experiment gone great!

For Musical Director Michael Hepner, or Detroit Mike as he's known in the biz, the weekly live music series at The Summit has taken off in more ways than he'd originally expected.

"I only hoped it would work at first," said Mike upon planning the inaugural event back in September with former executive director and current Board member Sue Papilion. Nine months later, Band Night has developed into a Friday phenom that's been known to draw up to 100 people to Sun City's most beautiful room at The Summit.

From the beginning, Mike says all he ever wanted to do was play keyboards. Over the wanted to pay them fairly and give them a non-smoking venue. But the thing I hear the most is what motivates me – they say this is one of the best places they perform at. When I ask them why they say because they are so appreciated by the crowd."

A second and probably the most important component of Band Night's success centers around community. In May, Band Night became the anchor of one of Sun City's newest clubs, Friends of The Summit, a booster-type club designed to develop ideas to help The Summit become the social gathering spot for Sun City. During the April Clubs and Community Organizations Committee meeting, which years he honed his musical skills in the big band jazz program at North Texas University, played with the Beach Boys and produced several musical acts. Evolving through the business, Mike's one constant has been his commitment to supporting live music. It is a big reason why Band Night at The Summit is so close to his heart.

Every week Mike delivers a different genre to the music-loving crowd. For a $10 cover charge and a one-drink minimum, fans get to enjoy some of the best classic rock, blues, soul, R&B and jazz that Las Vegas has to offer. And it's not only residents and their guests who enjoy the show, but the band members themselves report to Mike that they feel as though they've hit the jackpot.

"I wanted (to bring them to) a place other than the bars that many of these bands play at on other nights," Mike said. "They are smoky and many times don't pay a fair wage. I served to solidify the group's future, Mike said he heard a story that touched his heart.

According to Mike, one of Band Night's regulars got up and spoke.

"This gal talked about losing her husband and how lonely she felt. She tried other clubs but didn't feel like they cared or knew who she was. When she came to Band Night people remembered her name, danced with her and just had fun. That's what means the most to me – is that I saw us making a positive difference in people's lives through music and friendship."

Mike hopes to see Band Night develop into an event that offers performances beyond Friday evenings – perhaps a piano and singer lounge night, a comedy showcase or maybe even a variety show.

To experience Band Night, head up to The Summit every Friday. Doors open at 7 p.m.; show begins at 7:30 and wraps up around 9 p.m.

Successful Watch Program Depends on Getting to Know Your Neighbors

By Jeannette Carrillo/Link
Photos by D.J. Minella

As with everything in life, communication is KEY.

So went a conversation with several Sun City residents involved or looking to get involved in Neighborhood Watch programs throughout the community. While support is offered by the Las Vegas Metropolitan Police Department in educating participants on the ground rules, registering the program, and providing and installing the Neighborhood Watch signs, the responsibility for success falls on the individuals involved.

"It's about personal contact," said Assistant Block Captain Don Rutkowski, who has helped maintain a successful Neighborhood Watch program for two years. Don's area encompasses 13 homes close to the Sun Shadows Community Center.

"It's about getting to know your neighbors. We've met a lot of people while involved with Neighborhood Watch, but it's only as good as the rapport you establish with your neighbors," Don said.

Don's wife, Georgia, agreed, saying she and Don send out regular emails and photos to people in their group when they see a suspicious car in the neighborhood or have safety information to share.

"There's a woman next door to us who doesn't have a computer so I make a copy of the email and take it over to her," Georgia said.

Georgia, who also takes lots of walks around her home, says she meets and gets to know her neighbors that way. One of the challenges she said she sees in her area is among older residents.

"The problem is that they didn't want to have anything to do with anybody," Georgia said. They wanted to stay in the house and didn't want to come out."

"That's something you have to work on," responded Linda Bruckner, who, along with Julia Mooney or Moon as she's more widely known, started a Neighborhood Watch in their area near the Pinnacle five years ago.

In addition to information, Linda wanted to stress the themes of motivation and enthusiasm when talking about Neighborhood Watch.

"We'll know how successful this article is by how many phone calls or emails we get from people wanting to know how to start a Neighborhood Watch," Linda said.

For Linda and Moon, who have 49 homes in their program, Neighborhood Watch is about more than crime. "It's about the little things you do every day; that's Neighborhood Watch. You let them know that nothing goes unwatched," Linda said.

Some of those things on the watch list are the subjects of Moon's daily emails. Moon said she has two separate email lists, one made up of her Neighborhood Watch group and the other composed of NW people and friends. That second list is large. "We started our Neighborhood Watch when someone got robbed," Moon said. "I went out looking for the person and found the man. I said, 'We're thinking of starting a Neighborhood Watch, would you be interested?' He said, 'Yes.' So we started going door to door. Linda did most of that. We left a note at peoples' homes and scheduled a meeting at our house. People just walked over; people came in their walkers. We borrowed chairs from neighbors. It was homey."

As for meetings, Moon and Linda don't have regular meetings. Rather, "We use the emails for that. Moon's emails really hold the group together," Linda said.

For Block Captain Lonnie Wagman, who has maintained a Neighborhood Watch around Button Willow Drive for four years, attending Metro's First Tuesday events at the Northwest Area Command on Cheyenne Avenue near Interstate 215, is crucial. Lonnie shares safety information with her group via email, and she says she has a resident who patrols the area on his bicycle, keeping watch and alerting others as to what he sees.

Janine Lowen, who lives in the northeast corner of Sun City, is new to the program. She and her neighbor decided to take on starting a Neighborhood Watch on their block because Janine said she wants to do as much as she can to deter crime in her corner of the community.

"My neighbor (a Security Patrol member) and I agreed to do this together and we went door to door one Saturday and about two-thirds of the homeowners we talked with were interested," Janine said.

As for their game plan, Janine said, "Having a partner to work with makes it much more fun. She will create the contact list and I will take over the email distribution list since she doesn't know how to do that part."

For now, Janine said she and her neighbor plan to keep in touch through email, adding that communication is what will help ensure the success of their program.

"Most folks said they already watch out for their neighbors, so we're looking forward to meeting with Metro to find out what else is involved," Janine said. "We will have the opportunity to get to know our neighbors and maybe even throw a block party or picnic."

Unlike year's past, today the Association offers a free meeting room to any residents seeking to form a Neighborhood Watch. For information, contact the office of Community Services at 363-4790 to check on availability. For information on how to get a Neighborhood Watch started, call Kathy Cassell at LVMPD at 828-4305; to learn more about residents' first-hand experiences operating a successful Neighborhood Watch, email Don or Georgia Rutkowski at geodon1192@centurylink.net; or Linda Bruckner or Moon, at sadie03@cox.net or vegasmoon@cox.net, respectively.

From top, Don Rutkowski, Julia Mooney, or Moon, Georgia Rutkowski, and Linda Bruckner discuss the challenges as well as solutions they've encountered running a Neighborhood Watch on their blocks.

What Does This Sign Mean?

Exercise & Bone Health

Do you ever think of big and bulked-up bones?

Kristie McWhorter,
MS, CPT, GFI,
Director of Fitness
kristiem@suncitylv.com
fitness@suncitylv.com

When you think of strength training or exercise you may automatically think of big and bulky muscles. Do you ever think of big and bulked-up bones? You should. Bones are active, dynamic structures. When demands are made of muscles, they, in turn, make demands of the bones they're attached to. Bones, in response, become more dense. If you stop exercising you will lose both muscle and bone mass or density.

Often overlooked, bone strength or mass, is critical to one's health and well-being. A fracture late in life can be devastating. According to the U.S. Surgeon General, 20 percent of seniors who fracture a hip will die within one year. Further, the Surgeon General reports that an estimated 10 million Americans over the age of 50 have osteoporosis, while another 34 million are at risk. So what do you do? Get a scan and get exercising!

A dual-energy X-ray absorptiometry scan (DEXA) is the gold-standard test for assessing bone health, and can be prescribed by your doctor. Once your doctor has cleared you for exercise you should start exercising at their recommended level or start exercising with a personal trainer or physical therapist. It is important to have an exercise program that addresses your individual needs.

An exercise program for those with osteoporosis or osteopenia should include both weight-bearing and strength training exercises. Weight-bearing exercises would include walking, dancing, tai-chi or anything that makes your bones and muscles work against gravity. Strength training exercises include using dumbbells, tubing or weight machines that put your muscles to work lifting heavier loads than normal. Both types provide stress to the bones that is necessary for building or maintaining bone mass.

If you are unsure of where to start, consult with your doctor for clearance and guidance. There are many options for exercise at Sun City Summerlin through clubs, and classes and seminars offered by the Fitness Department. For more information, contact the Fitness Department.

HEALTHY Health and Fitness

Charli's Corner

Part III:
Rotation Exercises
for the Core

Let's review: You have three muscle groups that create a strong core: The rectus abdominus is used in forward bending for the upper torso (as in April's Link), your extensors in the back help you to stand upright (as in May's Link), and this month we will discuss your obliques, which are used for rotation of the trunk.

Your obliques are used for a multitude of functions, such as turning to look over your shoulder as you back out of the driveway or turning to grab a spice out of the cupboard while cooking. We rotate our trunk all day long whether we realize it or not. Here is a simple but great exercise to help strengthen your obliques and maintain a healthy range of motion.

Standing Rotation Twists: This is a progression of the same exercise to train your obliques.

Beginner Level: Start by standing with your feet hip distance apart, arms crossed over your chest. Engage the abdominal muscles by pulling the belly button towards your spine, slowly rotate your shoulders to the right and then to the left, keeping your feet flat on the floor (that is one repetition).

Intermediate Level: Repeat step 1 and hold two dumbbells close to your chest and slowly rotate your shoulders right, then left.

Advanced Level: Repeat step 2 and this time extend your arms and dumbbells straight out in front of your chest and rotate them from side to side. As you get stronger, increase the weight of the dumbbells.

For all levels, perform one to three sets of 10-15 repetitions.

To create a healthy core, be sure to do a complete core workout that can include the ab crunches, back extensions and oblique rotations. These are just a few of the numerous core exercises you can do to strengthen your core. Only doing one exercise for your abs and expecting great results is like eating one piece of spinach and expecting to be healthy.

Talent Needed for Upcoming Show

If you are a Sun City resident and would like to take part in the upcoming talent show set for October 19 at the Starbright Theatre, give us a call. We're in need of barbershop quartets, Sweet Adelines, Vaudeville-type acts, musical groups, singers, really funny comedians, humorous short skits, improve and more. Call De Carney at 778-0276. If there's no answer, leave your name and phone number.

Do You Know?

Do you know there is another tunnel beneath Lake Mead Boulevard for travel between our two Sun City areas? In an earlier "Do you know?" relating to where golf carts can and cannot go within Sun City, the tunnels at Lake Mead and Thomas Ryan Boulevards were mentioned. However, there is another tunnel that may require less travel for many residents. The main access to this tunnel is at a bridge on Button Willow Drive between Indigo Valley and Crooked Corner streets. Facing south at the bridge, the wider lane to the right of the bridge is for golf carts, the smaller path to the left is for walkers and dead ends at a picnic table within the green belt. This alternative tunnel is lighted and exits at the corner of Frostburg Lane and Sierra Heights Drive on the south side of Lake Mead Boulevard. Please note there is a gate at the Button Willow Drive entrance to this path and tunnel. This gate is only closed during emergency situations, such as flooding in the area.

Highland Falls Improvements Are Underway

We have now begun the improvement projects at Highland Falls. As mentioned before, the bunker project will progress sequentially and have little impact on play. Completion is planned for the end of September.

The practice area renovation project began May 2 and should be complete by June 30. As mentioned previously, this area will not

New Web Page

We now have a new and improved web page for our golfing community, golfsummerlin.com. It is much more attractive and informative than the previous version. Players will have a much easier time reserving their tee time. As a result, we are expecting more utilization of our fine courses.

HATS Off! TO OUR WONDERFUL CUSTODIANS

By Tammy Collins, photos by Jeannette Carrillo/Link

Most would agree that our four Sun City Summerlin community centers are among our Association's greatest assets. But even more valuable to us are the custodians who work at these facilities and have things clean, safe and ready to go for our Association and club meetings, religious services, special events and private gatherings.

Behind the scenes of these day-to-day and often hour-by-hour transformations within our meeting spaces are a group of very dedicated employees. As our events span the entire day and into the evening hours, custodial staff members, under the direction of SCSCAI Custodian Manager Toby Gonzalez, work diligently to ensure that everything is in place as requested.

Before any chair, table, podium or microphone is positioned, diagrams of desired configurations are submitted to SCSCAI room scheduler Mary LeBaron, who works out of the Community Services office. Mary reviews the room specs and then passes them along to Toby's department.

In a typical month, Toby says there are as many as 256 different setup configurations. On a busy day there may be only 30 minutes to get things ready for the next event occupying a particular space. Recent political rallies were particularly challenging for our custodial staff both at Mountain Shadows and Desert Vista, and the April Coffee with the Board saw our custodians setting up more than 400 chairs to accommodate the large crowd attending the event in the Desert Vista ballroom. Those who have attended the live Band Nights at The Summit know the café setting is transformed into a dance venue. In addition to arranging different configurations for every event, these 20 amazing Sun City Summerlin employees are responsible for the cleanliness of windows, floors, washrooms, arts and crafts facilities, the fitness centers and meeting rooms.

The next time you attend a function at one of our community centers, you may want to take a moment and thank these wonderful folks who have everything ready for us to add to our enjoyment of life in Sun City Summerlin.

Alzheimer's Support Group: The 36-Hour Day

"Everyone you meet is fighting a great battle." Ian McLaren, Scottish author and theologian

These words were never truer than for the caregiver of an Alzheimer's or dementia patient. Their battle takes place at all hours, day and night, in the privacy of the home or in public. The caregiver, usually a spouse, child, or other relative of the patient, lives an almost hermitlike existence, forgoing social contact and, perhaps worst of all, without the sentient companionship of the loved one. Adding to the pressure, often the caretaker is elderly and has multiple medical issues.

According to the Mayo Clinic, the key to a better life for the patient and the caregiver is active management and developing a workable plan. That's where the support group comes in.

Marlene Wilson, a Sun City Summerlin resident and facilitator for the Alzheimer's Support Group for the past six years, said, "Caring for an Alzheimer's patient is exhausting, too much for one human being to take on. It is a 36-hour-a-day job, involving demanding days and sleepless nights."

In addition to the drain on the caregiver's energy resources, there is an emotional toll, as well. Whether the patient is a parent, a spouse or a friend, the caregiver is distressed and saddened by the loved one's loss of memory and other complications that characterize Alzheimer's.

As so often happens with caregivers, Marlene struggled alone through the early stages of her husband's illness. Friends urged her to visit the Alzheimer's Support Group. When she finally gathered the courage to attend a session, Marlene regretted having waited so long to find helpful supporters and to get answers to her myriad questions. Because she found so much help and comfort from the group, Marlene became a regular and soon found herself acting as assistant and sometime substitute for Sally Carlson, the founder. When Sally left, Marlene obtained the necessary certification and took over the guidance of the group. As a facilitator, Marlene organizes the meetings and keeps the conversation moving along and on target. She keeps her eyes and ears open for any information that could prove helpful to the caregivers. She understands that "Some members wish to talk, some prefer to sit quietly and listen, and others may benefit from an occasional hug."

The value of the group's support is emotional and practical. For example, Alzheimer's patients are subject to falls; and caregivers are often unable to lift them. Marlene offers attendees a card that advises them to call 311, not 911. Marlene points out that a call to 311 will bring the nearest responder in the shortest time. "It may be fire rescue, an EMT or a police officer, whichever is the closest available unit," she said.

The responder will require certain information. Marlene suggests keeping a card handy with the patient's name, address, phone number, medication list, health directives and medical condition.

"You will find that the responders are caring and considerate. They make certain that the patient is comfortable and in good condition before they leave," Marlene said.

Marlene keeps an assortment of cards that she suggests are helpful to the caregiver. In addition to the card for the EMT, she carries one that helps when taking a patient to a restaurant or other public place. Sometimes the patient behaves in a way that evokes stares or comments. Marlene offers onlookers a small card with these words: I am the caregiver for a person with "Alzheimer's" disease. (Dementia) Thank you for understanding.

The Alzheimer's Support Group meets at Desert Vista on the first and third Wednesday of each month at 10 a.m. and runs about two hours. Marlene welcomes your call, any time, at 254-6144.

Sun City resident Marlene Wilson has facilitated the group for six years.

Bella Donna: a group of superior vocal talent and beauty combined to create the answer to the female version of the "Tenors." Bill Fayne, known for creating the "Vegas Tenors" in Las Vegas, is now creating the all-female group Bella Donna, featuring the all-star voices of Ashley Fuller, Naomi Mauro, Zipporah Peddle and Autumn Grayce Johnson. Musical diversity is one of their primary strengths, combing different genres into one show. The music is creatively arranged with reinventions of contemporary classics like "You Raise Me Up" and "Fever," as well as the upbeat swing anthem "It Don't Mean A Thing" and the pop favorite "I Can Cook Too." Mix in a little R&B like "Natural Woman" with a trip to Broadway's "The Flower Song" and you have the makings of one fantastic show. Singing in Italian, French, Spanish and English, this group is designed to target all audiences with something for everybody – music, a little comedy and, of course, those amazing "Voices of a Modern Time."

"LOVE LETTERS" BY A. R. GURNEY

Sunday, July 24, 2 p.m. · $20

Maggie Peterson and Ronnie Schell bring their prodigious talents to "Love Letters," a play by A. R. Gurney and A finalist for the Pulitzer Prize for drama. Andrew Makepeace Ladd III and Melissa Gardner, both born to wealth and position, are childhood friends whose lifelong correspondence begins with birthday party thank you notes and summer camp postcards. Romantically attached, they continue to exchange letters through the boarding school and college years, where Andy goes on to excel at Yale and law school, while Melissa flunks out of a series of "good schools." Andy's last letter, written to her mother after Melissa's untimely death, makes it eloquently clear how much they really meant to each other over the years, physically apart, perhaps, but spiritually as close as only true lovers can be. Maggie is best known for playing Charlene Darling on "The Andy Griffith Show," and appearing in "Love American Style," "Green Acres," "Gomer Pyle USMC" and "The Odd Couple." Ronnie is an actor, stand-up comedian, and cartoon voice actor (Peter Puck). He also appeared on "You Bet Your Life," "Gomer Pyle USMC," "The Andy Griffith Show," "The Golden Girls," "The Brian Keith Show," "Charlie's Angels" and "Hogan's Heroes."

WORKING IN WOOD

Myriad Projects Keep Sawdusters Busy

The Sawdusters is a woodworking club in Sun City Summerlin. The Club's wood shop is a fully equipped studio located at the Pinnacle. It is outfitted with woodworking machinery, including table saws, band saws, chop saws, sabre saws, drill presses, a lathe, a planer, a router, compressed air, several sanders and shapers, plus a complete assortment of hand tools and clamps. With this array of equipment, members are able to put their creative skills to work and create their varied woodworking projects.

The facility is heated and/or air conditioned, and a state-of-the-art, ducted system helps keep the environment virtually dust-free.

Activities within the shop vary as members work on their own projects while others make toys for charitable causes. Some make things for their friends and family members and others create items for the annual Sun City Arts and Crafts Fair. In addition, the Club provides free repair services for Sun City residents. During the month of June the Sawdusters will feature their projects in the display windows at Mountain Shadows. Be sure to stop by and take a look at the many items crafted by the group of gifted artisans.

Annual membership dues are $30, which is used for equipment maintenance and repairs, plus replenishment of consumables such as saw blades, sandpaper, etc. The annual dues payment is prorated for partial-year membership. A limited number of lockers for personal tool/project storage are available for an additional $35 per year.

As a prerequisite for membership, each member must complete a safety orientation on all equipment to ensure that all machines are operated safely. The Club is very proud of its safety record and continually monitors activities to keep the shop and members safe. If new members desire help in pursuing their projects, more experienced members are always available to lend a hand. The shop is open seven days a week from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. For membership information, call Bev Pasco, president, 838-2621. The phone number to the wood shop is 240-1325.

of the Steinway concert series. The Trio has a variety of influences and combines blazing chops with a sweetness in all the right places. This is a bit different from our usual format. One of our most memorable performances from our club featured the song "Lovely" from "My Fair Lady." While this would not be considered true classical music, members really enjoyed it. It is with this spirit that we are trying out this different path. Showtime is 7 p.m., with doors opening at 6:30. Contact Will Rydell at 580-0727 or lledyrw@aol.com.

Computer

The June general and business meeting will be Thursday, June 2, 7 p.m., Desert Vista. Members will vote to authorize an emergency expenditure from the club's reserves to replace lost equipment. Our guest speaker will be Isabel Boylan, electronic resources and computer trainer from the Las Vegas-Clark County Library District. Come join us for an informational presentation, refreshments and fellowship. For information, go to www.scscc.club, or contact Howard Verne, president, at 527-4056 or pres.scscc@gmail.com.

Conservatives Club

We have interesting, informative presentations by elected officials, candidates and public figures. Thursday, June 23, will be a dinner meeting at our normal meeting location, Desert Vista. The doors will open an hour earlier than normal at 5 p.m.; the meeting will start at 5:30 p.m.; food will arrive at 6 p.m. The cost will be $5 for members, $10 for Sun City residents who are not members and $15 for others. The caterers must know the number of attendees in advance so we cannot accept payment at the door. If you would like to attend, contact Treasurer Betty Rumford, 324-8961 before June 10. Have questions? Contact Richard Jones, president, 240-9863; Marti Bender, vice president, 233-8395; or view our website, www.scsconservatives.com.

Cribbage

The Cribbage Club meets at Mountain Shadows every Wednesday and play starts promptly at 6 p.m. Please arrive at least 10 minutes early. Our club members are extremely friendly and we love to welcome new players. We only had one member who achieved a 400 round this month and it was Anne Werfel. A big congratulations! For information, call Bob Fitzgerald, president, 233-1233; or Ruth Nevins, 804-5664.

CLUB SPOTLIGHT: Liberal Club

"There are more things in heaven and earth, Horatio, than are dreamt of in our philosophy."

In this quote from Shakespeare, Hamlet emphasizes the importance of remaining open and curious through a lifetime of learning.

Marge and Barry Feinblatt, Judy and Joe Cerva, along with Melanie Spector, having worked together on the 2012 presidential campaign, wondered if a liberal club in Sun City Summerlin might be a good idea. On the night of the first meeting they had no idea how many people would show up. To their delight, so many people came that the room had to be expanded to accommodate everyone. Today The Liberal Club has 224 members. Speakers have included reporters Steve Sebelius and Jon Ralston, Professors Dr. Sondra Cosgrove, Dr. Michael Green and Dr. Bob Green, who worked with Dr. Martin Luther King, former U.S. Representative Steven Horsford, and current candidates Reuben Kihuen, Lucy Flores, Susie Lee and Catherine Cortez Masto to name a few.

The Sun City Liberal Club's mission is to inform and educate and not to disparage opposite points of view. Liberals love to read, travel, explore, discuss and learn new things. They wonder why the United States, the wealthiest nation on earth, is the only industrialized nation that doesn't provide health care to all its citizens? They wonder what is the appropriate level for our national debt. Is it $0 or $19 trillion, and why? They wonder why we spend more on defense than all our enemies combined? They wonder why all of the new wealth is going to the top 1 percent? Don't they have enough?

In Plato's, "Allegory of the Cave," one of the prisoners breaks his chains and escapes into the light of the world. Having seen such amazing things, he returns to the cave to free his fellow prisoners. We should all move toward the light every day and tell each other tales of the wondrous things we see.

~ David Hueth/Liberal Club

Call Kris, 443-8759. [*partners preferred]

Euchre

Euchre is a card game usually played with four players per table (two partnerships). It is a trick-taking game with a trump suit and played with only 24 cards (cards below 9 are removed from the deck). We rotate tables and partners, so euchre is a very social game for all levels. No partners are necessary. Lessons are available. Join us at 6 p.m. Wednesdays at Mountain Shadows. John, 330-603-7863.

CLUB SPOTLIGHT: Conservatives Club
Individual Liberty at Core of Conservative Values

What is a conservative? Richard Jones, the Conservatives Club's current president, defines a conservative as someone who is careful, doesn't spend much, doesn't take from other people to enhance their own agenda, likes small government and doesn't like to be told what to do.

When asked what he thought of the current political climate, Richard responded, "This country has a history of robust politics and I welcome that."

As stated on its website, www.scsconservatives.com, the club's purpose is to "discuss and educate members about current conservative issues." And that is just what happened at a recent meeting. The club invited the Republican candidates for Congressional District 3 to speak and take questions from its membership. Approximately 90 of the club's 200-plus members were present to participate.

While definitions of the tenets of conservatism vary, generally speaking, conservatives believe in personal responsibility, limited government, free markets, individual liberty, traditional American values and a strong national defense. They believe the role of government should be to provide people the freedom necessary to pursue their own goals. Conservative policies generally emphasize empowerment of the individual to solve problems.

Club programs welcome speakers and political candidates, who help educate members on current issues.

Betty Rumford, the club's secretary-treasurer, joined the club because she likes to be with like-minded people.

If you are interested in becoming a member, or would like to be a guest at any upcoming meeting, contact Richard at 240-9863, or Marti Bender, vice-president, at 233-8395.

CLUB SPOTLIGHT: Sun City Dance Company Bridging the Generation Gap

During Black History Month, the spirit of giving was very much alive. Members of the Sun City Dance Company (SCDC) generously gave back to the community, donating their time and talent to help students learn about African American culture by providing tap workshops and teaching after school tap classes at Kermit R. Booker Senior Innovative Elementary School (Booker E.S.). Lida Derrin, a member of SCDC and a speech/language pathologist at Booker E.S., facilitated the partnership of these two organizations. Lida proposed the plan to the school's Black History Committee and to SCDC. Both parties embraced the idea and the senior performing club visited the school every Tuesday for six weeks to work with students and staff. Jane Ross, the director of SCDC, volunteered to provide all of the workshops and instruct the after-school program. Suzanne Rosenthal, SCDC president, assisted every Tuesday, as did Lida. Two other club members, RuthAnn Moore and Shirley Laudenschlagger, retired educators, also shared their passion with the youngsters of Booker E.S.

Members of SCDC demonstrated their strong support for this venture by raising money to purchase tap shoes for the children in the after-school program, and by volstudents had their debut performance on March 1 as The Bobcat Tappers. The initiative was so successful that it did not end after six weeks. The Bobcat Tappers continued to learn from the senior dancers until the end of the school year. They performed at Desert Vista on May 11 and at the school's year-end assembly on May 25.

CLUB SPOTLIGHT: Ladies Executive Golf Club Asian Influence Drives Annual Tourney

The Ladies Executive Golf Club's annual Invitational Tournament Swinging to the Far East was held May 3 and was a huge success with 100 players from all over the Las Vegas Valley participating. The morning started with a continental breakfast with a variety of breakfast items. Many players were decked out in their finest Far East attire. The merchants in the area were very generous with hole sponsorship and some great raffle prizes. A wonderful lunch, provided by Top Dog catering, followed the tournament and was held in the beautiful Summit dining room. JoAnn Zornow, president, welcomed our guest golfers and introduced and presented our invitational chair, Glenda Seles, with a beautiful bouquet of flowers. Glenda thanked all her helpers and commended them on a job well done. She also thanked our pros and the grounds keeper for an outstanding job. Donny Long, director of golf, acted as emcee, calling out all raffle winners, acknowledging the sponsors and announcing the winners:
