Good Day to All Our SCSCAI Residents

This month I'll cover some miscellaneous items and highlight another of our fabulous standing committees. In the September Link I discussed the differences between the master Association (SCSCAI) and the many sub-associations in our community. Several people called me with questions and I want to clarify one point. Each sub has its own set of governing documents that specify rules that must comply with the master's governing documents. The sub's rules specify what it is responsible for as far as maintaining its common areas; who is responsible for the driveways, the mailboxes, address lights, driveways, etc. Not all subs have the same rules, so check your governing documents to be sure.

First a note on SCSCAI. We are not a closed homeowners association (HOA). That is, we do not have gates that control access and thus do not own or maintain the streets or street lights. We cannot do traffic control, can only do limited parking control and so on — all the things a gated community is responsible for. That distinction permeates what we can do about many issues.

I receive more calls about dog poop, coyotes and people speeding or running stop signs than all the other calls put together.

Dog poop. When you walk your dog, pick it (the poop) up! Note that some of what you think is from dogs might be from coyotes. If you can identify who is not being a responsible dog owner, let us know. Take a picture of the incident and tell us who the dog owner is and we can do something. Else there is not much we can do.

Coyotes. We have done what we can within very specific legal constraints. On the good side, coyotes help control the rabbits and rats. Be careful with letting small dogs and cats outside.

Speeders and stop sign running. There is little we can do that we have not already done. We ask for compliance in the Link. We put up flashing lights on stop signs. We installed speed warning signals. We considered speed bumps (very bad for golf carts), and we mention the issue at many venues. The streets do not belong to us and we cannot enforce any laws pertaining to speeding and stop signs. What we have done is spend many thousands of dollars to do what we can to alleviate the problem. We continue to look for solutions, but the only real solution is for all of us to obey traffic laws. And quit parking on the sidewalks.

Now, on to committees. The basic charter of the Deed Restriction Hearing Committee (DRHC) is to consider any violation of our development standards and, if appropriate, impose fines or suspension of privileges to our facilities for violations. If you paint your house blue with pink stripes, the DRHC may end up considering your choice of paint. The usual process is for the Architectural Review Committee (ARC) to decide there is a violation and forward the information to the DRHC for consideration. DRHC meetings are closed meetings. The reason for the "secret" process is that Nevada law requires it. Because of the possibility of appealing any decision made by the DRHC to the SCSCAI Board, the DRHC is the only committee chaired by a non-Board member and composed entirely of residents. Note: To be a member of any committee you must own a home in Sun City Summerlin.

Have a great November and enjoy Thanksgiving with friends and family.

Some Things to Know About the Smoke Alarm Project

As we move toward the end of the first phase (the learning phase) of the Smoke Alarm Project, we have learned a lot. The team of Sun City Summerlin volunteers will be taking a break from the town halls and blitz days during the holidays, and in the December Link the new program developed from the lessons learned over the last few months will be introduced. Even though the program will change a bit, the commitment will not. The goal remains to replace all smoke alarms in Sun City Summerlin homes that are over 10 years old. The changes, among other things, will:

- Introduce an easier way to get signed up.
- Eliminate the requirement to attend a town hall to qualify to sign up.
- Enable residents to schedule appointment installs outside of the blitz day.

For those homeowners who participated in the first phase, you were our guinea pigs on this project and we thank you. Without you we would not have learned what efficiencies, products and installation changes we needed to introduce. By your standing in line for tickets to and attending town halls, participating in our blitz days, and waiting at home without knowing exactly what time your installation would be, Las Vegas Fire & Rescue has been able to put together a program they believe will expedite the process and better serve Sun City Summerlin residents. We applaud LVFR for its commitment to Sun City Summerlin residents and this project.

For now we are not taking any new signups. Residents who are currently signed up will be contacted by Zachery Collins from Las Vegas Fire & Rescue to schedule an installation.

In December we will roll out Metro Fire Departments program, which will include how to sign up and other information about the program.

Community Projects Keep Staff, Volunteers on Their Toes

This month's Common Area Properties Committee meeting failed to establish a quorum at its meeting on October 1, however CAP Chairman Bruce Alitt opted to hold a modified meeting/workshop because he said he saw a few new faces in the room and wanted to give them a chance to see the Committee in action.

Before the workshop got underway, Bruce explained since there was not a quorum present, the Committee could not conduct official business or vote on any of the agenda items. Therefore, the meeting was held for information purposes only.

With that, Sun City department directors updated the Committee on the progress of several projects that had taken place over the course of the previous month.

Brian Bagwell, SCSCAI Director of Golf Course Maintenance, brought CAP members up to speed on the annual overseed project, which was nearing its end. As for the Palm Valley irrigation project, Brian said, "It is now complete. The contractor is gone and everything is working really well."

Moving into the fall, Brian added, "A lot of the work we'll be doing now is detail work around the courses, which is normal stuff after the summer. And, I'm looking forward to the water bill coming down."

Following up on other golf news, Golf Director Donny Long updated the Committee on his proposed purchase for new rental clubs, and the importance of keeping the equipment up to date.

"When we get calls from outside golfers, the first question they ask is what kind of rental club we stock," he said.

According to Donny, the type of club, along with its technology and age makes the decision for many golfers looking for a new course to play.

Next up, Building Maintenance Director Brandon Balek alerted Committee members to the status of several projects that were wrapping up at Highland Falls Golf Course. Brandon explained that he scheduled his crew to complete annual maintenance work while the area was closed for overseed. At Tavern at the Falls, the kitchen received new flooring, which was recommended by the Clark County Health Department during a routine inspection. The new surface is a similar epoxy that carries a 10-year life. Another project that was checked off the list is one that has been talked about for a while. According to Brandon, the protruding curb located near the clubhouse entrance has been removed to allow access for two cars in the lane.

"If there is a delivery truck, or a car dropping off a passenger at the front door, another car can now safely pass on the outside," Brandon said. "Before, the curbing caused cars to back up. Now, the area has been widened."

When CAP Committee member Ed Turkin asked Brandon a question about pigeons, Brandon responded that he was working with Terminix on a "pigeon protection" program for Highland Falls and Palm Valley. The plan, he said, would cost roughly $5,000 for the first year. And while the item is not budgeted in the current fiscal year, the need to address the problem may facilitate a move to find funds soon.

If you have a question about how Association funds are allocated, or want to suggest a project for community improvement, plan to attend the monthly CAP meetings. They are an informative way to spend 90 minutes.

Volunteers Mark Solemn Ceremony

What do you do with the red, white and blue after it has been tattered by desert winds? Security Patrol collects and stores our country's weary banners. Twice a year, since 2003, flags are retired in a ceremony assisted by the Boy Scouts of America. The U.S. Flag Code, Title 4, states that anyone can retire the flag. However, the VFW, American Legion and the Boy and Girl Scouts of America usually perform the ceremony.

On September 14, Security Patrol volunteers, along with members of Las Vegas Boy Scout Troop 192 laid our country's banners to rest by cremation. This day also was the anniversary of Francis Scott Key's poem that became the National Anthem in 1931.

The ceremony began with the Scouts separating the red and white stripes from the field

Security Patrol volunteer Phil Pupanek opened the flag retirement ceremony by reading the poem "I Am the Flag." Next, Boy Scouts from Las Vegas Troop 192 conducted the traditional service, offering a bit of history about Old Glory. Several dozen flags were cremated during the annual event at Desert Vista.

of blue containing the stars representing the 50 states. Security Patrol Watch Commander Phil Pupanek read "I Am the Flag," a moving poem written in the voice of the flag, recounting its history in war and peace. The poem reminded all in attendance the cost of freedom and hope for the future.

Scout Master Robert D. Rourke explained the ceremony, which was followed by the Pledge of Allegiance. As each stripe was reverently folded, a Scout read a passage from either the Declaration of Independence, the Constitution, or iconic quotes from Abraham Lincoln, John F. Kennedy or Neil Armstrong. Following the reading of each stripe's representation, the stripe handed to a Scout who passed it to a brother Scout who then reverently placed it on the flames.

The keepers of the flame were Security Patrol volunteers Phil Pupanek, Joseph Tao and Richard Becker. As the smoke rose it symbolically carried with it the tears and prayers for fallen men and women of the military who died in defense of our country, as well as those who returned home with injuries requiring a lifetime of care. We were reminded of the tragedy of 9/11 and the thousands of people who died, and the agonizing deaths of police officers and fire fighters who became victims of cancer as a result of their bravery. Continuing its path toward the sky, the dark grey smoke also reminded many of the dreams of new citizens who proclaimed their first pledge of allegiance after years of study.

After the ceremony, another very American tradition followed – a BBQ with all the fixings. Hot dogs, brats, pulled pork, mac 'n cheese, coleslaw and fruit salad were enjoyed by the Scouts and Security Patrol members while a beautiful flag stirred in the gentle breeze.

Healthy Sleep, Less Stress!

The month of November is dedicated to sleep and stress. The National Sleep Foundation reports that "Healthy sleep habits can make a big difference in your quality of life. Having healthy sleeping habits is often referred to as having good sleep hygiene."

There are several tips for positive sleep habits that can greatly improve mood, decrease stress and add to an overall sense of well-being.

Waking up at the same time every day and going to bed at the same time every night helps regulate your body's clock and circadian rhythms.

Practice a bedtime ritual that's relaxing. Turning off electronics and bright lights can help with easing into sleep and creates a more soothing environment to fall asleep.

Exercise daily. Any movement is better than no movement at all.

Evaluate your bedroom environment. Cool temperature and free from bright lights.

Sleep on a comfortable and supportive mattress and pillows. Check the life expectancy of your mattress and replace it with a good quality one. Make sure there aren't any objects around that might cause a slip or fall if you get up during the night.

Keep circadian rhythms in check by exposing yourself to bright light in the morning and dim light in the evening.

Avoid alcohol and heavy meals in the evening. Eating big and heavy meals later in the evening can disrupt sleep. If you are hungry, try eating a light snack one hour before bedtime.

Wind down and calm down before bed. The body needs time to ease and shift into sleep mode.

If you're still having sleep problems, it's best to keep a sleep journal. Talk with your doctor and find a sleep professional. If you are on any medications, it's possible they might be interfering with a good night's sleep, but never stop taking medication without the consent of your doctor.

An article published in the American Journal of Health Promotion notes that social support can slow down the flow of stress hormones in seniors and, not coincidentally,

Volunteers' Work With Burro Helps Spread Message of Awareness, Conservation

(Editor's note: To see an average day of Sun City volunteers working with Jackson, visit Suncitylink.com and click on the video tab.)

Jeannette Carrillo/Link

Who knew that burro wrangling was a thing? There's the cowboy, of course, who many consider a wrangler of horses and cattle, and then there are other animal groups that have their own herders like sheep and goats, but burros? They're known to be a stubborn breed, right? So any type of wrangling, it seems, could be a mission in futility.

Not true, say two Sun City ladies and volunteers with the Friends of Red Rock Canyon who are official burro wranglers of the agency's 8-year-old burro named Jackson. Jackson is a little guy in the world of burros, standing only 11 hands (or 44 inches tall) compared to 60 inches of the average burro. He weighs 385 pounds, or 100 less than his adult counterpart. So he's a real cutie. He was born in Red Rock Canyon National Conservation Area and is a product of the Bureau of Land Management's Wild Horse and Burro Program. Jackson is owned by Blaine Benedict, the former executive director of the Southern Nevada Conservancy, and he is the official ambassador of the BLM's conservation program.

"I don't know why I am so obsessed with this burro. He just has that effect on people."

Stacie Coppens, Burro Wrangler

"Jackson was built for education," said Blaine. "The program he belongs to was originally designed to protect the wild horses and burros on public lands as a symbol of America. Burros, you know, are not a native species. They were introduced by the Spanish and now there are thousands of them living on the range, and they put a stress on the land. So, Jackson helps promote awareness of wild burros, introduces people to what they look like and how they can adopt them, as well as how they are protected."

"Jackson also helps to educate people on how dangerous it is to feed a wild burro because they can get used to it and head onto roads, which is dangerous for them and for the people who feed them," said Stacie Coppens, volunteer wrangler No. 1 and the administrative coordinator for the Link Magazine.

"I don't know why I am so obsessed with this burro," Stacie said, running her fingers along the inside tuft of Jackson's ear. "He just has that effect on people. He was my little therapy burro when my dogs and my dad died. He's helped me through some things."

Stacie's commitment to conservation took a natural turn when she met Jackson. In an instant, she was able to be hands-on with a unique educational opportunity, while helping to raise awareness about an important local issue – the stewardship of public lands.

Burro wrangler No. 2, Beth Dixon, knew about Jackson from her work at Red Rock NCA, and when a former wrangler had to take some time off due to an injury, Beth stepped in.

"I told her, 'Come on out, we can always use another wrangler,'" Stacie said.

In addition to her time working with Jackson, Beth also volunteers at Red Rock Canyon, removing graffiti and picking up trash along the trails.

An average morning with Jackson can include anything from cleaning out his stall at Cowboy Trail Rides in Red Rock Canyon, where the burro lives stall-free for most of the year as his space is donated by the horseback riding company. Wranglers also brush, feed and keep Jackson as free from flies as possible by spraying his coat and super-soft ears. But the most fun part of working with Jackson Stacie and Beth say is when they get the chance to take him for a walk.

Before wranglers can hit the trail, however, they must undergo a strict training program to ensure their and Jackson's safety. After all, walking a burro is not like walking a dog, unless you're talking about a 400-pound one!

Another interesting fact about Jackson, said Blaine, is that he's a public figure.

"He has a Facebook page, a line of swag and a personality to go with it. He has a sophisticated sense of humor and is occasionally sarcastic like when he tips over his full poop bucket after you've cleaned out his stall because he doesn't want you to leave. He recognizes voices and car sounds, and he's happy when his regular visitors come to visit him."

Next stop: training to get him out on the trails to carry water and sandwiches to Red Rock Canyon volunteers working on various restoration projects.

Residents' Forum

"WHERE NEIGHBORS BECOME FRIENDS"

SALUTE TO VETS

You're Invited
Wednesday, November 13, 7 p.m.

Please come to Residents' Forum and join our community in honoring the men and women of Sun City who have served our wonderful country. We extend a special invitation to all veterans living in Sun City and hope they will join us for our annual "Thank You and Salute to Vets."

This Veterans Day celebration will be hosted by Jay Sesto and will feature a Color Guard and Drill Team from Centennial High School that will get the evening off to a patriotic start.

Next, Las Vegas City Councilman Stavros Anthony will lead a dedication in honor of the 75th Anniversary of D-Day. The presentation will pay tribute to Sun City service men and women who served during World War II. Following that, retired Navy Captain Bruce Adams will entertain guests as the month's speaker. Bruce's topic will be "Russian Submarines During the Cold War." Apple pie and ice cream will be served following the program.

Elections for the Residents' Forum 2020 board will be held during a short business meeting at the beginning of the program.

Residents' Forum's programs are free and open to all Sun City residents. The Forum is self-funded so there are never any fees or dues. The board and committee members are all Sun City resident volunteers who enjoy hosting evenings like Salute to Vets, Trivia Night and Bingo. If you are interested in joining us, please come to our planning meeting at 1 p.m. on Wednesday, November 6, Desert Vista, Room 4.

Due to the fire code, seating at Forum events is limited.

Meet Your Lawmaker

Nevada State Assemblywoman Shea Backus heads to Desert Vista on Sunday, November 17, from 3-5 p.m. for her monthly Sun City office hours. Residents seeking help with a variety of social, health, veterans' issues and more can stop by to meet the lawmaker, ask questions or receive referrals for assistance.

No campaigning takes place during the event.

Turn Your Clocks Back on November 3

Everyone gets an extra hour of nighttime, starting this month as Daylight Saving Time ends at 2 a.m. on Sunday, November 3. Remember to set your clocks back one hour before you go to bed so that you will be on time for all your Sunday appointments.

Sun City's 30th Birthday Bash One for the Record Books

There was cake and food and music and carnival games. There was even a dunk tank and let's not forget a flash mob to Michael Jackson's iconic Halloween anthem "Thriller" that really got Sun City's 30th birthday party started on October 12 at Mountain Shadows.

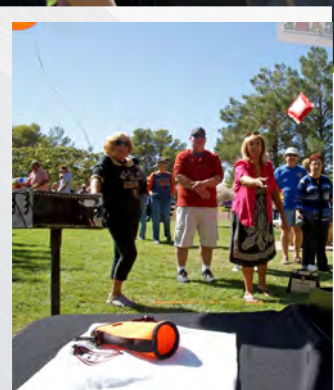

Roughly 500 residents turned out to wish the community a "Happy Birthday" during the three-hour festival that had many residents saying "It felt just like being a kid again!" No doubt the carnival-style atmosphere, complete with midway-style games for cuddly prizes, cotton candy and popcorn took many back to the days when it was fun to hang out with friends and share a laugh or two.

If you attended the party and liked what you experienced, let the Link know at Link@suncitylv.com. Maybe we shouldn't wait 30 years to have another party!

Photography Show Set for November 16

Photography Club members will display their creations at Desert Vista on Saturday November 16 from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. During this annual event, Photo Club members show off their photographic talents and the techniques that they have learned to enhance their photographs.

Sun City Summerlin just celebrated its 30th anniversary and during those 30 years photography has made dramatic transformations, evolving from a time when the average photographer took pictures on an Instamatic and brought film to the Fotomat kiosk located in a parking lot.

But computers and other technological advances resulted in the demise of Kodak, Fotomats and film. Today most of us use our cell phones to take pictures and the Internet to send photos to family and friends around the world.

Today's photographer uses computer editing programs to transform their photos into images that were impossible in years past. For example, Diane Frankenfield, winner of last year's Best of Show Photo displays her composite of a series of shots she took during an eclipse of the moon setting over the Spring Mountains.

Come and see what Diane and all our other talented Sun City photographers are creating with their cameras, cell phones and computers at Desert Vista on November 16. Admission is free.

Once in a Lifetime

By Beth Nappe/Link

I have done some traveling in my time and had only a few places left that I really felt drawn to explore. Scotland was at the top of my list for many reasons: The raw beauty of the landscape, the music and the sad history of the demise of the Highlander way of life. And, after all, it's where the Queen vacations.

I also must admit that I am a huge fan of Diana Gabaldon, the author of the Outlander series. Those of you who are unfamiliar, it's a story of a WW II nurse who travels back in time to 18th Century Scotland through her strange encounter with some mythical stones much like Stonehenge. The story chronicles her experiences in the Scottish Highlands during the country's most turbulent times as the Scots fight to defend their way of life against the British. While it is fiction there are sufficient references to places and things that did or still do exist.

There were just a couple of experiences I was hoping to have on my trip. The first was to attend the Royal Edinburgh Military Tattoo. The Tattoo takes place in the shadow of Edinburgh Castle, which dates back to the 12th Century. Every year during the month of August, military bands from all over the world perform.

THANK YOU FOR YOUR SERVICE

You have heard it many times: Once a Marine, always a Marine. But did you know that once you are a qualified submariner, you are always a qualified submariner entitled to wear the coveted gold (officer) or silver (enlisted) dolphins? Qualification is not easy, nor is it automatic. One must prove competency in every duty station on a submarine.

Of course, service in the silent service makes you eligible for membership in the U.S. Submarine Veterans organization, but only a select few are invited to join the Holland Club: Those veterans who have been designated as "Qualified in Submarines" for more than 50 years.

Recently, Naval Academy graduate and SCSCAI Board of Directors Secretary Bruce Alitt was inducted into the Holland Club in recognition of his qualification in 1967 while serving aboard the fast attack submarine USS Seawolf (SSN-575). The club is named after the first modern submarine acquired in 1900 by the US Navy, the USS Holland (SS-1).

Bruce Alitt, left, is inducted into the Holland Club by Richard Santomauro, Lcdr USN (Ret) Commander, Submarine Vets Base 51 Las Vegas

*"There is nothing stronger than the heart of a volunteer."
WWII General James J. Doolittle*

Sun City Summerlin's Military and Friends Club roster lists 88 members, ranging from age 58 to 100. World War II Navy veteran George Pantages celebrated his 100th birthday this year. In May, the Club honored George at its annual picnic. George has been an active member of the group since 2005. Organizational records start in 1999 when the Club was called Sun City Retired Military and Friends. By 2006, there were 125 members on the roster.

The chartered Club is not exclusive to military veterans. Rather, members welcome all military supporters, including spouses, widows and widowers of military veterans.

The Club's 2020 election of officers will be held at Desert Vista on Friday, November 8, 2 p.m., in conjunction with the annual pizza party. Four holiday social celebrations and two business meetings are held annually. Invited speakers often include agents who review government services accessible to veterans. At a recent get-together, a Post Traumatic Stress Disorder counselor contributed valued information to the group. According to Lorraine Spofford, Club secretary, "We have musicians, meaningful speakers and refreshments at our social affairs."

Veterans who served in all military branches during WWII, the Korean War, Vietnam and Gulf War are represented in Military and Friends. Lots of good-hearted rivalries are exchanged among the diversity of veterans who are encouraged to share their military service experiences.

Lorraine became secretary of Military and Friends in 2010. Her deceased husband, Chuck, served three years in the Army, followed by a 20-year service career in the Air Force.

"He would tell everyone how great the military is," Lorraine said. "I am so proud to be a member of the Military and Friends Club, and grateful to be serving them as veterans. I like to see their smiles when they enter our meeting room, and I use colorful decor and flowers at our meetings to brighten everyone's spirits. It is a wonderful club and cherished members include military veterans' widows and widowers who have stayed on our roster. We have hard-working, caring club directors. We meet to enjoy a meal together and share special camaraderie and common interests."

Club President Larry Jones added, "Anyone who served in the military has something to offer, including stories, memorabilia, or just sharing the patriotism and pride for our country. Even if you haven't served, but appreciate our men and women in the armed forces, show your pride and come meet our heroes."

For information about the Military and Friends Club, contact Lorraine at 456-3958 or lorrainespofford@gmail.com.

CLUB SPOTLIGHT Model Builders

SPECIAL HOLIDAY EVENT TO SHOWCASE MEMBERS' CREATIONS

The Model Builders Club has been a cornerstone of Sun City Summerlin for more than 20 years. One of the Club's special features is a fabulous HO Train layout, which is one of the largest private train setups in Nevada. The train layout has been completely rebuilt in the last year and is now ready for full display to our Sun City Community! The layout includes a miniature city, a fast-flowing river, a country village with parks and farms, and apple orchards and horses, a detailed oil refinery and an active train station. The Club will be open for visitors over the holidays, and all Sun City residents are invited to bring their family and friends in to watch the trains in full operation. Besides the trains, you can meet Club members and watch them in action as they create doll houses, planes, ships, cars and military vehicles. You'll also see wood carvers and leather crafters at work.

The Club is located at Desert Vista Community Center, and is open from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. There will be a special Friday Night Lights viewing on Friday, December 27, from 7 to 9 p.m. See the train layout by lamplight!

We all look forward to your visit!

Club members Jim Twohig, right and Ken Walker are two of the Model Builders who will greet residents and their friends/families to the holiday open house that starts the day after Thanksgiving. On December 27, the train's village will be illuminated by lamplight.

ARE YOU AWARE OF THE NEW MEDICAID LAWS?

A brother and sister came to my office, mom had passed years earlier and Dad, dying from Parkinson's disease, was entering hospice. He had been in a skilled nursing facility for the last ten years. The two kids had worked extra jobs to keep dad's house hoping for him to return home one day. Worst case the kids figured, when dad died they could recover their funds by selling the house.

Medicaid has changed from being a benefit to a loan. Every dollar spent by Medicaid is tracked. When you die, Medicaid expects to be paid back from your Estate. Instead of 200,000 people previously on Medicaid in Nevada, we now have over 600,000. Politicians have created a huge hidden tax, naming it a "recovery" rather than "a tax", has confused most people.

I explained to the brother and sister that Medicaid was no longer a benefit, but a loan. In their case, Dad was in a skilled nursing facility, $8,000 a month (average cost in Nevada), 12 months a year, $96,000 for 10 years or $960,000. The end result was Dad's home was forced to be sold to pay Medicaid back. The kids received no inheritance and the years of working extra jobs to try and keep Dad's house rendered useless.

While most people can afford the cost of assisted living for a spouse, Few can afford the $8,000 monthly cost of a skilled nursing facility. To qualify for Medicaid assistance a single person is allowed to keep $2,000 in assets and if both spouses need assistance the amount increases to $3,000. If you can't pay the $8,000 a month, you'll be forced to reduce your life savings to impoverishment levels and have no safety net in order to receive Medicaid's help. There is a way to avoid this.

Contacting an Elder Law Attorney and planning for Medicaid as part of your Estate Plan NOW can save financial and emotional heartache for you and your family. I urge you to not let this happen to you and your family. Protect yourself and find an Elder Law Attorney to speak with today.

ANSWER TO LAST MONTH'S PUZZLE

President

FROM THE PRESIDENT OF THE BOARD

So You Think You Want to Be a Board Member?

"The specific purpose for which this corporation is formed is to act as a community welfare and homeowners' association and to promote the recreation, health, safety and welfare of its members . . . to provide for the maintenance of the common area, association lands and facilities for the benefit of all of the residents of the community of Sun City Summerlin."

*Articles of Incorporation,
Sun City Summerlin Community Association, Inc.,
June 15, 1989*

This article is designed to help SCSCAI homeowners in good standing who may be thinking of running for the Board of Directors understand the responsibility of the position. The official filing period is underway, with the deadline to file, Friday, November 29, 5 p.m., at the Administration Office at Mountain Shadows.

The first thing to understand about a Board member's role is to understand Sun City Summerlin Community Association, Inc., as well as how to work within SCSCAI's tradition and protocol.

It is expected that you are aware of and understand the importance of Nevada Revised Statute NRS 116. If you are successful in winning a seat on the Board of Directors, you will receive a copy of the most recent NRS 116 manual. NRS 116 is the statute that governs Homeowners' Associations (HOAs), HOA Developers, Condominium Hotels, and licensed Community Managers.

You also should be familiar with SCSCAI's Governing Documents, which include:

- Articles of Incorporation
- Bylaws
- Declaration of Covenants, Conditions and Restrictions (CC&R's)
 - Development Standards
 - Rules and Regulations

In addition to the above, candidates must be knowledgeable of Sun City's Age Restriction Policy, as well as aware of by accepting the elected position of being a Board member, you incur a fiduciary responsibility for the operation of the community.

Leo Crawford
President, SCSCAI
Board of Directors

A link to SCSCAI's Policies and Procedures can be found on SCSCAI's website, Suncitysummerlin.com. Click on the Administration tab.

It is strongly recommended that you read and understand our Governing Documents, including NRS116 and Robert's Rules of Order as one of your first priorities when thinking of running for office.

Sun City's Committees

As you begin your campaign, it is a good idea to attend as many committee meetings as you can, especially those that you are particularly interested in. Standing Committees are an extension of the Board of Directors. Standing Committees make recommendations to the Board of Directors. Many agenda items originate at the Committee level. Committees and staff work together to arrive at a particular agenda item. Attending Committee meetings will ensure you have the opportunity to participate in discussions and understand why a specific item has been placed on the Board agenda.

There is at least one Board member on each committee. You are encouraged to attend committee meetings to keep track of what is happening in the community.

Sun City's standing and advisory committees are:

- ARC – Architectural Review Committee. The ARC enforces Community Standards and approves requests for architectural and visual changes to the outside of residents' homes.
- CAP – Common Area Properties. CAP inspects Association buildings and grounds to see where improvement is needed. CAP recommends purchases, repairs and remodels in the Reserves.
- CCOC – Chartered Clubs and Community Organizations. The Committee oversees the charters and budgets of clubs, and makes sure they follow the guidelines of the approved Procedures Manual. Oversight extends to Security Patrol, Sunshine Services, Sun City Charities/Volunteers and the Residents' Forum.
- DRHC – Deed Restriction and Hearing Committee. Hearings are between the Committee and the owner not in compliance with community standards.
- Finance – Serves in an advisory capacity and advises the Board on all items financial. There are three (3) sub-committees of Finance, Audit, Investments and Insurance.
- Fitness – Makes recommendations to the Board of Directors and staff concerning Health & Fitness Department issues.
- Golf Oversight – Consists of golfers and golf club representatives. Golf Oversight makes recommendations to the Board of Directors and staff concerning golf issues.

- IT – Information Technology encompasses Suncitysummerlin.com, Golfsummerlin.com, and all programs and tech licenses.

- Legal – An advisory committee to the Board of Directors. The LSC stays up to date on NRS 116 and makes recommendations to the Board of Directors on updating or changing the Association's governing documents based on new laws, community needs or at the request of the Board of Directors.

- Link – An advisory committee to the Board of Directors, overseeing the monthly Link magazine and Suncitylink.com.

Beyond chairing your own Committee and visiting other Committee meetings, there is the monthly Coffee With the Board. This informal get-together welcomes residents to get involved in conversations regarding issues that affect our community. This particular event falls under the category of a workshop. The Board of Directors cannot vote or make decisions during Coffee with the Board, however, they may request the Executive Director follow up on items addressed during Coffee with the Board.

Attending a Board meeting

Board meetings typically start at 9 a.m. on the second Tuesday of the month at Desert Vista. They last about 2 to 2.5 hours, followed by the Board members and select staff meeting for lunch. After lunch there is usually an Executive Session that starts between 1 to 1:30 p.m. Executive Session meetings take place in the committee meeting rooms at Pinnacle or Desert Vista. There are several evening meetings (2 per year required by NRS) scheduled each year that start at 6 p.m. Before each Board meeting, it is very important that you review the agenda so you are prepared to discuss and vote on agenda items.

The Executive Board may meet in Executive Session only to:

- (a) Consult with the attorney for the association on matters relating to proposed or pending litigation if the contents of the discussion would otherwise be governed by the privilege set forth in NRS 49.035 to 49.115, inclusive.
- (b) Discuss the character, alleged misconduct, professional competence, or physical or mental health of a community manager or an employee of the association.
- (c) Except as otherwise provided in subsection 4, discuss a violation of the governing documents, including, without limitation, the failure to pay an assessment.
- (d) Discuss the alleged failure of a unit's owner to adhere to a schedule required pursuant to NRS 116.310305 if the alleged failure may subject the unit's owner to a construction penalty. Decisions can be made in Executive Session, but most actions of the Board must be held in open Board meetings. A motion can be brought forth from Executive Session for a Board meeting. Example: Settlement of a lawsuit.

Other Items to Consider

- Process one to 20 informational emails a day regarding Association business.
- Meet with the Executive Director regarding issues that have come to your attention that may need staff attention.
- Your telephone number and/or email is included in the LINK. As a result, Residents may call you on occasion.
- As a member of the Board of Directors, a large commitment of your time is required. Plan to devote a minimum of six to 10 hours per week on Association business. During annual Budget Hearings, several full days will be devoted to briefings by Staff on the annual budget.

As a Board member, it is important to understand that you have no power or authority as an individual, the SCSCAI Board is the authority. Your position and vote creates the policies and provides direction to staff and residents. The Board of Directors is composed of nine members. On occasion, the Board of Directors will not vote unanimously. As a result, once a vote is taken it is important to move to the next item on the agenda.

The residents will vote because you have their best interests at heart and support the community in which they live. Board members must always consider what is best for the Association.
