Link, SCSCAI Websites, E-News Bulletin Best Ways to Keep Up With What's Happening in Sun City

Sue Papilion, Interim Executive Director, Sun City Summerlin Community Association, Inc.

Living and working in Sun City Summerlin are pleasures for all residents and employees, but there are times when we need to communicate last-minute information and we only can reach a few. The Internet is the best way to get out information in addition to our wonderful Link magazine. If you use the Internet, there are two web sites to check and one e-bulletin to sign up for. Everyone should check suncitylink.com and scscai.com at least three times a week. These sites contain information sometimes before your next Link comes out and changes that have happened since it came out. I love the estate sale section!

All Sun City residents should subscribe to the e-News Bulletin. The bulletin goes straight to your email and alerts you of cancellations throughout Sun City, offers reminders of events and features important information that everyone should know, like street closures and other last-minute changes. The e-News Bulletin is sent out as soon as we become aware of information we see as newsworthy to residents. To sign up, go to www.scscai.com and click on e-News subscribe. It's easy and takes about half a minute.

Lastly, we would like to hear from you, whether you have suggestions, complaints or compliments. Your Director of Fitness, Kristie McWhorter, came up with the idea to have simple email addresses that can be sent to a Sun City department anytime you think of something that needs attention. Now that so many of us have smart phones, you can use them right when you see a blocked intersection or a dirty light fixture! Here they are and I hope you'll use them:

President's Message

David Steinman,
*President, SCSCAI
Board of Directors*

Recently, I was elected by your Board of Directors to serve as president of the Board until the end of February 2015. This is the third time I have served this community as president in my nine-year tenure. Other changes have occurred at the leadership level. Sue Papilion resigned as president of the board at the second meeting in May. She was subsequently appointed interim executive director of Sun City Summerlin and will serve until a permanent executive director is found by the board. Due to a resignation by the vice president of the Board, Jim Akers was elected to the position and now serves as vice president-treasurer. Longtime resident and former board member Tom Brennan was elected to the Board of Directors and appointed an assistant treasurer.

Other changes are taking place in our restaurants. In late July, Five Star Gaming assumed its position as lessee of the Vista Grille, offering 24-hour food, drink and gaming. This move relieves Sun City of being in the food service business at Palm Valley. When we found out that gaming would not be permitted at Highland Falls by Howard Hughes Corporation, Five Star elected to terminate its agreement to manage the food and beverage operation at Tavern at the Falls.

This has caused Sun City to re-enter the management of the Tavern at the Falls. I invite all residents to visit the restaurant at Highland Falls and meet the new manager/chef, Barbi Meinel. She has created a completely new menu featuring an array of salads and sandwiches that are served from 5:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. The facility will remain open after 3 p.m. for drinks and light food.

About one year ago, Sun City Summerlin was awarded a $2,000 grant from the city of Las Vegas to construct an electronic information sign on one of its information centers. When it was determined that the sign would cost substantially more than the grant, the project was shelved. When I was at City Hall early in the summer, I was asked if I could come up with a use for the grant money before it expired in June.

We went to work and designed 19 informational street signs to be placed in and around Sun City Summerlin. We found the cost would be $3,200. The Public Works Department of the city of Las Vegas stepped forward and funded the $1,200 over our grant award to make the project happen. You have probably noticed some of the signs that will help our new residents and visitors to our community find the facilities they are looking for.

We are fortunate to live in this first-class retirement community. Your Board of Directors will continue to work hard to maintain that image and reality.

Huntsman World Senior Games Return to St. George, October 6-18

Whether you are an athlete aged 50 years old or over, or a friend of an athlete who beckons to the call of competition, you might consider trekking up to St. George, Utah, in October to get a glimpse of the internationally popular Huntsman World Senior Games.

The event welcomes senior athletes from around the world who compete in 27 sports. If you're a newcomer to the Games and are interested in competing or spectating, here are a few facts you'll want to note:

- The Games are Oct. 6-18 throughout St. George, located two hours north of Las Vegas.
- Participation is open to athletes 50 and older.
- Athlete registration deadline and fee, Sept. 1, $99.
- Official Fan registration (optional) deadline and fee, Sept. 1, $59.
- Team registration deadline and fee, Sept. 1, $35-$55, depending on the sport

In addition to the adrenalin rush of the Games, one of the best by-products of registering, according to Sun City athlete Roy Nelson, who has been competing in the Games for years, are all the free health screenings registrants get, including PSA, blood pressure, blood sugar, body composition, resting heart rate, equilibrium and cholesterol screenings. For information on the Huntsman World Senior Games, visit www.seniorgames.net.

The Summit Opens to Rave Reviews

More than 100 residents welcomed the grand opening of The Summit on Monday, July 7, as they enjoyed complimentary coffee and doughnuts along with a marvelous view of the Las Vegas Valley.

"You know what they say about business, location, location, location," said Sun City resident Greg Campbell, who stopped by The Summit during a break in action from the Men's Softball Club.

"They're loving it," said Summit supervisor Tony Verrengia, surveying a group of residents enjoying coffee and the company of their neighbors who popped in after their daily walk.

The Summit features a quick menu of freshly made sandwiches – half and whole – featuring turkey, pastrami, ham and cheese, and vegetarian; chili; soup; sausage croissants; bagels and cream cheese; salads; chips and salsa; Blue Bunny ice cream served by the cup or cone; and sundaes. There is also a variety of beer and wine available, as well as tea, hot chocolate, juice, coffee and soft drinks.

Sewer Project to Delay Traffic

The city of Las Vegas began an 11-month sewer project in August at the intersection of Lake Mead and Rampart boulevards that has necessitated severe lane restrictions. This month, the east side of Rampart Boulevard will be closed in sections for three months at a time for a period of nine months. This means that only the west side of Rampart Boulevard will be in use for both north- and southbound traffic. In order to avoid delays, please plan alternate routes accordingly. Residents will be updated on the SCSCAI e-News Bulletin, and Link and SCSCAI websites as further details are released.

Water, Coyotes Two Facts of Life in Sun City

I have two items I want to share with you.

The first is water. As you may have read in my previous articles that water continues to be the biggest issue facing the Southwest and here in Sun City. Because of this, SCSCAI's Board of Directors has approved a three-year strategic plan to reduce the water usage throughout Sun City. Some of these improvements include reducing the number of plants and water-loving plants wherever possible. You may have seen this going on at Thomas Ryan Boulevard and east area of Lake Mead Boulevard.

Another way to reduce water consumption is turf reduction. We still have large areas in the community where reducing turf will make a lot of sense, such as the greenbelts. These areas have large spaces that are heavily sloped. Those slopes make the greenbelts unusable and somewhat dangerous to maintain. Over the next three years, we plan on changing these areas and others to desert scape. Since all the parks are also flood control zones, they will maintain usable turf for your recreational use.

The first of these parks that will be revamped is Sundial West Park. The park is located between Big Timber and Highvale drives on Sundial Drive. We need the support of the community on this three-year plan.

The next topic I'd like to discuss is coyotes. As you all may know, coyotes are a native part of the western United States. They spread throughout the states when the wolf was exterminated across the lower 48.

Coyotes are very adaptable canines. I even had one as a pet when I lived in the San Bernardino Mountains in California. She was always a little wild and she still had a wild side until she died after 15 years. But back to the article. Coyotes love an easy meal. You should never feed or leave food out for them. Once you do that they will associate Sun City as a food source. This is not fair to your neighbors or the coyotes. It's a death sentence for the coyote and harmful to people and their pets. Coyotes will eat almost anything. So, if you feed other wildlife, be aware that coyotes will be attracted to the food and the wildlife. If you feed your dog outside make sure to clean up soon after it is finished. When walking yourself or your dog, be aware at all times that coyotes are here. Normally, if you scream at a coyote it will leave. But if it doesn't, it may be a good idea to carry something to scare it off, such as mace or an air horn, which is recommended by the Nevada

Department of Wildlife. Take note, the air horn also may scare your dog, but it's better than what could potentially happen.

I hope you all enjoy your summer.

The Landscape Department waters every day at night.

Director of Landscape as needed.

So the next time you see your men in orange, be sure to give a wave. It's a great way to say thanks for all the hard work they do.

The Scoop on Adult Immunizations

Immunization. Isn't that for kids? Not any more. Especially for those above the age of 50, adult immunization is a very real concern. I remember getting shots in school every year and dreading it, as did the student body.

So, what immunizations do seniors need?

To start with, an annual influenza or flu shot is recommended. This vaccination will decrease one's chances of getting the flu during flu season, which runs from September to April every year. Why do we have to get a flu shot every year? Flu strains change every year, so new vaccines are created annually.

Another shot seniors need to be aware of is tetanus, which is now Td or tetanus /diphtheria. The vaccination is usually needed every 10 years, and then there's the one-time substitution dose of Tdap or tetanus /diphtheria/and pertussis vaccines. These are due to the recent increase in pertussis, commonly called whooping cough.

How about chicken pox or varicella? I remember my mother putting me and all the neighbors' children in the same bedroom with the first kid who got the chicken pox, saying it's better to get it as a child than an adult. Unfortunately, all of us who had the chicken pox as children now have the virus called herpes zoster or shingles living within our bodies. This means we are prone to painful outbreaks of herpes zoster or shingles. Common symptoms of herpes zoster or shingles include a red blister-like rash along with flu-like symptoms. Although a chicken pox/varicella vaccine is available, it is mostly administered to children to help prevent initial infection. The shot is recommended now for seniors over the age of 59.

Other vaccines to consider are pneumonia or pneumococcal vaccine if you are over the age of 65 – younger if you have chronic disease. Repeat this vaccine once every five years. MMR or measles /mumps /rubella vaccine is recommended for those born after 1956. And hepatitis A&B vaccine is recommended if you are around people with hepatitis A or B, traveling to areas with a high incidence of hepatitis A or B, or you have multiple sex partners. The senior population is the second highest population after teenagers for diagnosis of STI or Sexually Transmitted Infections.

For more complete information on today's vaccines, visit www.cdc.gov/vaccines/schedules/hcp/adult.html

CONGRATULATIONS!

On the Subject of Safety

One issue that speaks directly to the safety of all golf carts in Sun City Summerlin is how to properly navigate a street crossing.

The No. 1 thing to remember when driving a golf cart in Sun City is that the automobile ALWAYS has the right of way. Golf cart drivers should NEVER count on other traffic stopping. As for motorists, when driving streets that border the golf courses, remember to slow down and exercise extreme caution. Never stop your car and wave a golf cart across the street. The effort, while seemingly polite, may be an invitation for an accident to happen.

Drum Roll, Please

The Name the Golf Event contest sponsored by Sun City Summerlin's 25th Anniversary Golf committee is over and we have a winner! Out of a field of nearly 50 very clever entries, the winning name is: Sun City Summerlin Senior Classic, submitted by Clay Baker. In addition to winning two rounds of golf, Clay will have a prime seat at the event and will be presented with a souvenir flag from Sun City's 25th Anniversary Celebration. Clay has golfed with both the Niners and the Men's 18-Holers golf clubs. His golfing partner Len Douglass said, "It couldn't happen to a nicer guy." Thanks to Clay and all those who participated in the Name the Golf Event contest. Now we look forward to naming the winners of the long drive and putting battles. See you all on Saturday, October 18, at Highland Falls Golf Course. Good luck!

It's a Small World After All

~ by Tammy Collins/Link

Though many in Sun City Summerlin have had interesting lives, Elena Urisman has experienced a truly amazing existence. Elena, when sharing her story, always ends with the statement, “God bless America” – a blessing many of us take for granted or rarely give thought. For Elena, it is a joy she lives every day.

Born in Stalinist Russia, Elena was orphaned at one month of age when her father was killed in the early days of WWII; her mother died shortly after giving birth to her. Her only living relative, her maternal grandmother, unable to cope with the deaths of her husband so quickly followed by the deaths of her son-in-law and daughter, felt it best to place baby Elena in an orphanage. Her grandmother then fled to Odessa to join relatives only to find they all had been killed.

A frail child, Elena was adopted by a loving and prominent Jewish family. Her father was a well-known dancer in Russia. Her adoptive parents provided well for her, and she led a happy and privileged childhood.

After the war, Elena's grandmother returned to the orphanage to find her granddaughter and was told that information regarding the child could not be given to her. Elena's grandmother pled with an orphanage official who took pity on her as she explained Elena was her only living relative. Upon becoming aware of Elena's whereabouts, she visited the girl's adoptive parents.

Elena's adoptive parents agreed that the maternal grandmother could be a part of their daughter's life only if the grandmother was to be her nanny and never reveal to Elena her true identity. And so, throughout the years, the stories Elena's nanny told her were about her actual family, though little Elena didn't know.

During her late 20s and already a mother herself, Elena saw the passing of her adoptive mother, who had died a few years after her adoptive father. When it came time to claim a small inheritance left to her by her adoptive mother, Elena had to view official documents. This was the first time she learned that she was adopted. At that time, she also discovered that it was her maternal grandmother who had been her nanny and nurtured her.

Today, Elena has two families to know and love her — her adoptive family and members of her birth family. She, her husband and daughter moved to the United States as refugees and continued to build a wonderful life here.

Security Patrol

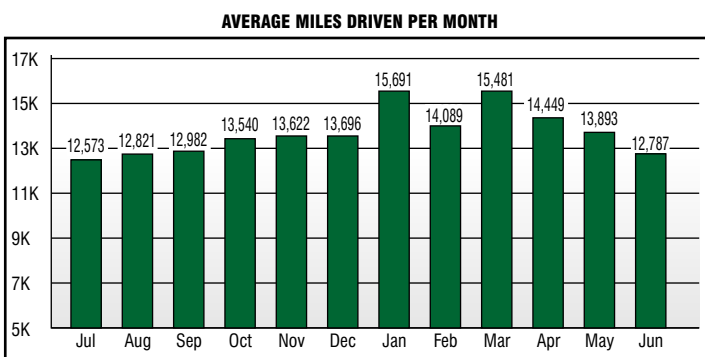

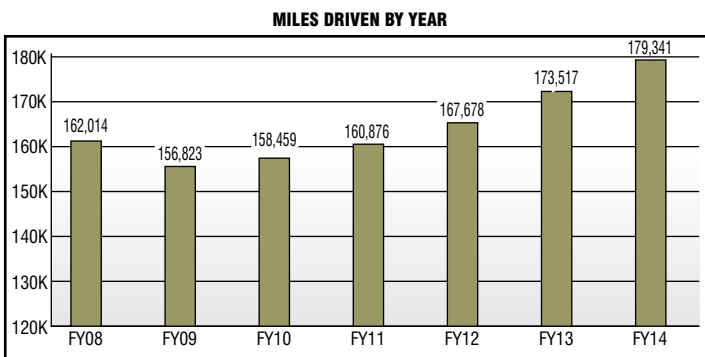

Fiscal year 2014 Security Patrol Car Report

In July, Sun City Summerlin Security Patrol purchased three new Patrol cars from Centennial Toyota, which won the contract by submitting the lowest of three dealership bids. In fiscal year 2014, Security Patrol was maintaining three cars that each had more than 100,000 miles of service. The replaced Patrol cars were traded in with 120,265, 138,235 and 147,355 miles on their respective odometers.

This is a brief summary of Patrol car performance for the fiscal year that ended in June 2014, including comparisons with the prior six years. The report and graphs were prepared by Security Patrol Watch Commander Bob Segler, who maintains operational statistics on the Patrol cars.

Security Patrol has increased the total miles of Patrol driving each year for the last three years. The Patrol's fleet set a new record in fiscal year 2014 by driving a total of 179,341 miles. Acknowledging that the five Security Patrol cars leave the community only for automotive maintenance or fuel, the record-breaking mileage was achieved almost entirely while patrolling streets in Sun City Summerlin.

According to Bob Segler, fleet miles per gallon increased from 41.0 to 41.8 and the Patrol purchased nearly $800 less

RECENT STATISTICS

In one month, 246 residents were alerted that their garage doors had been left open after dark. Patrol drivers investigated 32 flashing emergency lights, 713 homes were checked for vacationing home owners and 266 visitors stopped by the information centers for directions. Day and night, drivers patrolled the streets of Sun City Summerlin, adding 13,473 miles to the five cars' combined odometers.

gas than it did for the previous year. Bob said the Patrol can expect only modest improvements in MPG for the next several years until it can take advantage of the next technological breakthrough such as extended range electric or fuel cell cars at a reasonable price. The Security Patrol fleet is made up of Toyota Priuses.

Security Patrol's motor officers began buying different tire brands to improve previous short tire life. The initial results show 29 tires purchased in fiscal year 2014, down from 45 tires bought the previous year.

■ SHUFFLEBOARD BOB COMES HOME TO SUN CITY SUMMERLIN

Shuffleboard Bob offers Sun City Shuffleboard Club members tips on game strategy.

"I always try to stay in touch with Sun City because that's where I got my chance," explained Bob Zaletel, aka Shuffleboard Bob, about his June visit with the Sun City Shuffleboard Club. "A lot of what I've achieved is because of the video I made for the International Shuffleboard Association in 1993 in Sun City to help promote the sport in other countries."

Today, shuffleboard is played throughout the United States, Japan, Canada and Brazil.

Bob stopped by the Shuffleboard Club's regular Thursday night meeting and met with members, got a chance to play a little, as well as offer helpful tips on game strategy. Bob accepted an invitation to meet with the Club from former Club President Stan Chupnik. Serious shuffleboard players know about Bob as his name is etched into the annals of the sport's three Halls of Fame – the Arizona Hall of Fame, National Hall of Fame and International Hall of Fame. Bob was inducted into the International Shuffleboard Hall of Fame in August. He is only the second man in 51 years to earn the distinction of the three titles.

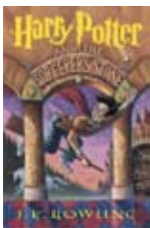

Not bad for a kid who learned to play the game inside his Ohio home, where his dad painted a full-size shuffleboard court onto the floor of the family's basement. Years later, and by that time with an understanding of how to play the game, Bob was asked to head up a shuffleboard team for the 1988 Las Vegas Corporate Challenge program. He did, and the rest is history, literally.

"Sun City is close to my heart. I really mean it," said Bob. "It's one of the reasons I've been inducted into the International Hall of Fame. I found the game and it's taken me around the world."

Around the world and into the lives of so many players of all ages, who have been introduced to shuffleboard through Bob's videos and books. If you're interested in Bob, look him up on YouTube, or, better yet, if you're ever in Brooklyn, N.Y., head to the Royal Palm Shuffleboard bar where Bob is so popular that they've named a cocktail after him.

"They tell me it's the most popular drink in the place," Bob said. But then, we'd expect nothing less.

Golfers Remember Past Players

Club President Tony Derhake, bottom, led the Men's 18-Hole Golf Club through a memorial service in tribute to deceased members during a ceremony held at the Palm Valley putting green on July 1. The event took place before the start of the weekly Tuesday tournament. Club members bowed their heads in memoriam as the Pledge of Allegiance was recited and the "Star Spangled Banner" was played while several men sang along. Club member Gene Sasser read the names of passed members aloud. The event concluded with a presentation of colors by members Joe O'Connell, Gary Campbell and Jim McGregor, top. "Today, we're recognizing members that we've lost," said Tony. "In many ways, we're just kind of a big old family. We can argue and push at each other a bit, but we're also a big support for each other." According to Tony, the Club will look to repeat the event annually.

Model Builders Put Work on Display

The Sun City Model Builders Club, located at Desert Vista, is always eager to show its favorite models to visitors. Last February, we had our Club show in the ballroom with all our artisans displaying some of their models to our visitors from the greater Las Vegas area and to our Sun City residents.

Now, they have created a picture collage in the glass case near the metal friendship tree at Desert Vista. The collage depicts the various types of modeling that are done in the club workshops. Of course, please stop into our shops and see our artisans at work on their models, as well as our H/O train layout.

■ SWIM CLUB READIES FOR THE NEVADA SENIOR GAMES

You are invited. Yes, you!

The Sun City Swim Club will be competing in the upcoming Nevada Senior Games that will be held at the Desert Breeze pool, 8275 W. Spring Mountain Road. Our swimmers will be going for the gold on October 4-5.

The Swim Club invites all swimmers to register under Sun City as the "city" they are from as 95 percent of the participants will be from Las Vegas. I will be there, swimming without the help of one arm and one leg. I don't know if I'm going to win, but I'm sure going to try. Our swim coach Darlene Rogers, right, says my motto is: "If I can do it, you can do it!"

All swimmers are asked to come to our Swim Club conditioning workouts, which will be held Monday, Wednesday and Friday, 9-10 a.m., at the Mountain Shadows pool. As a team, we will be doing 20- to 50-yard sprints and drills. It's definitely going to be work, but it's worth the effort when we make a fantastic showing at the Senior Games.

Remember, the competitions are for fun and camaraderie, and at the same time we strive to strengthen our bodies. We are a growing and vibrant community of seniors who come in all shapes, sizes and ages. You are welcome to swim with us - no matter what your expertise may be.

To register for the Nevada Senior Games, go to nevadaseniorgames@earthlink.net, or call 889-2952.

■ TIME STANDS STILL FOR ART CLUB'S LIVE DRAWING CLASS

There are almost 100 people in the Art Club. Within the Club many different groups or classes are offered. The Faces & Figures live drawing group meets in the art room at the Pinnacle and hires its own model/s every week. Members gather in the studio that provides great natural lighting by way of skylights. The wonderful part of this group is that they truly love their work. While one member works in pencil, another sketches in charcoal and others busy themselves behind oil and water-color brushes. It's an eclectic mix of mediums. The class was organized by Betty Johnson about 10 years ago, but she has since moved away. The class is now headed by Connie High and Anthony Santos, who take turns arranging for the models. Believe it or not, not everyone wants to sit still and pose for a group of people staring at them. The models are paid $25 for two hours. Current members of the group are Anthony Santos, Connie High, Penny MacNeil, Carol Roberts and Pat Kuramoto. The group usually meets on Mondays from 12:30 to 2:30 p.m. unless there is an Art Club meeting, and then the group meets on Tuesdays. Most of the members are accomplished artists with strong backgrounds and a passion for their work. If there is no model, which rarely happens, the members take turns posing for 30 minutes each. If you have some spare time and an interest in live drawing, head up to the Pinnacle and watch as these masters make time stand still.

Nominations from the floor will be accepted. Classes at Desert Vista: Traditional Short Form-Advanced, Monday, 3 p.m. and Friday, 2 p.m.; Traditional Yang Short Form-Beginners, Wednesday, 4 p.m., and Friday, 3 p.m.; Traditional Yang Family Long Form, Wednesday, 3 p.m. and Friday, 1 p.m.; Andy's Form, Monday (advanced) and Wednesday (beginners), 2 p.m. For more information, call Mery Finkle, 228-8417.

The Club was primarily established to cater to advanced players who play at a 3.5 to 4.5 level, although anyone can join. Dues are $10 per year and entitle members to attend the May BBQ, September 17 pizza party and December 6 Christmas party. It's a good opportunity to have some positive social contact with those we play tennis with or their non-playing spouses, as well as a lot of good food, fellowship and fun for all.
