From the Executive Director

Sue Papilion, SCSCAI
Executive Director

The Link Provides Information; It's Residents' Responsibility to Read It

As executive director, I also enjoy the title of editor in chief of the Link, our wonderful community magazine. I am lucky to have an experienced, professional and caring managing editor in Jeannette Carrillo, since I am not a great writer and I know little about publishing and magazines. I do know that we have an ever-improving magazine that residents enjoy and should refer to every day.

Lately, there has been much discussion worldwide about what is printed and freedom of the press. That is not an issue here in Sun City Summerlin because "The primary mission of the Link is to provide unbiased communication and to inform residents of community news, events and services. The Link is our community's official newsletter to all owners, as it includes board of director elections, by-law changes, voting procedures and all legally required board and financial reporting. The goals of the Link are available in SCSCAI Policy and Procedures at www.scscai.com.

Besides referring to the monthly calendar and social activities, residents enjoy interesting stories about neighbors, friends and clubs. And, of course, there is advertising that our local businesses buy to get their messages to you. These ads pay for the Link and make the magazine profitable, but SCSCAI does not endorse or promote any of the products or services advertised.

The Link will continue to improve and have even more interesting articles and as you know, current articles, and new important information is available at www.suncitylink.com. The website has new updated information on Tuesdays, but the long-term goal is to have it updated every weekday! The Link provides the information; it is your responsibility to read it!

President's Message

A Little Thank You Goes a Long Way for a Job Well Done

David Steinman,
President, SCSCAI
Board of Directors and proud member of Security Patrol

The dedicated members of the Security Patrol serve our community 24/7, 365 days a year.

We take for granted that this group of volunteers will always be at or near any crime scene or malicious incident. Although a few Patrol officers may appear at these events, covering these hard-core issues is the responsibility of the Las Vegas Metropolitan Police Department/Clark County Sheriff's office.

Your Security Patrol is here to assist homeowners with situations that do not require "the use of force," and turn out to be everyday items such as lost pets, garage doors that are left open, water leaks, inability to find a resident in his home, providing security to all of the Association buildings, checking out strange vehicles and/or persons who appear to be lost in our community and many other tasks requested by residents.

Having been a member of the Patrol for nearly 14 years, I am familiar with the good our volunteers achieve and the outstanding work they do for our community and its residents. Year after year, Metro has cited the low crime rate in Sun City Summerlin and given full credit to the men and women of the Security Patrol for their presence on our streets, 24/7!

Behind the Patrol division is a group of men and women who serve as dispatchers, information center officers and other miscellaneous positions. The Patrol is headed by its chief, Judy Hunt, and the other officers of the Patrol board. Many of the volunteers put in 20 or more hours per week. When a resident joins the Patrol, he or she is asked to give a minimum of four hours per week.

Recently, the Community Preparedness Committee (CPC) was divided into two parts. One section provides the educational component of the committee; the other section is the on-site management of a disaster in our community prior to the arrival of professional first-responders. The Security Patrol has been designated the first-responder once an emergency situation has been declared. This will be directed by the chief of the Patrol and the watch commanders, using the scheduled drivers and dispatchers plus any personnel that can be called in to assist.

The next time you have contact with Patrol members, thank them for their time and service, which makes this a first-class community. The Patrol has served Sun City for 25 years. Your Association provides most of the funding for the Patrol. It costs each household about $10 per year for Patrol services. Now that is a real bargain!

Steven O. Hansen, M.D., F.A.C.S.

Community Standards

ARC Approves Wall-Top Rollers To Discourage Coyotes

The population of coyotes in Sun City Summerlin is a consequence of available water and an abundance of small animals in the community. In the Southwest, most coyotes exist in areas of relatively low precipitation, and they thrive in communities where no wildlife predators threaten their existence.

A coyote can jump over a 6-foot-high wall and be in a back yard in mere seconds. Accordingly, it may appear as though the animal jumped completely over the wall without touching it. In fact, the jump consists of two phases: the leap to grab hold of the top of the wall followed by the spring to landing. The Coyote Roller interferes with the jump by making it impossible for the animal to grab the top of the wall because of the spinning roller. Denied traction, the coyote loses footing and winds up falling back down.

Coyote rollers are intended as a homeowner-installed system. It may be necessary, however, to modify a section of a roller to make it perfectly fit the length of a wall. This is done by removing the bushings from one end and using a power saw, or a standard hacksaw, to trim the roller to the proper length. Then, reinsert the bushing. The suggested height of your wall should be approximately 6 feet.

An Internet search of coyote deterrent rollers will access numerous sites providing comprehensive information, including videos and photographs. Estimated costs of rollers range from $25 for a 4-foot section to $150 for a 24-foot-long wall.

A wall-topped roller system offers an aesthetically sensible coyote deterrent that has been approved by the Architectural Review Committee. Before installing rollers atop a wall for the purpose of keeping animals out of a property, a resident must submit an application to the Community Standards Office. For approval, the application should designate the height and length of the wall, method of attachment and desired color. According to ARC, the rollers are to be painted or powder-coated to match walls or fences.

The Community Standards office is located at Mountain Shadows, and is open 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday. Call 966-1411.

New Pool Furniture Arrives at Mountain Shadows

Have you noticed the new pool furniture at the Mountain Shadows outdoor pool? Look for the bright and bold splashes of blues, aquas and greens that are spread throughout the pool area.

At the end of last summer a survey was conducted at the Mountain Shadows fitness center asking residents to provide their opinion on a variety of samples of pool furniture.

In total, 128 residents filled out surveys. One of the main questions was whether residents preferred the cushions on top of strap pool furniture or the newer style of a sling material. More than 62 percent of resident surveys indicated a preference for the sling material, mostly for sanitary reasons. Residents stated that cushions get too dirty from all the use and are difficult to clean. The new sling lounges and chairs are very easy to clean on a regular basis.

Other requested furniture features included arms for the lounges to assist residents in getting up; a lighter frame color to “hopefully” ensure that the chairs wouldn’t get as hot as the darker framed ones; a higher seat height for the lounges to help ease getting up and down; and wheels on the lounges for easy movement.

Finding lounges and chairs to fit the criteria was a time-consuming effort, and I hope residents will be pleased with the new furniture and enjoy the relaxing and tranquil atmosphere we’ve tried to create at the Mountain Shadows outdoor pool this summer.

Free Class Covers the Basics

“Form is the most important thing,” said Sun City Summerlin Fitness Assistant Heather Jahanbin, who leads the monthly equipment orientation classes for residents at each of the three fitness centers.

It doesn't matter if a resident has used an exercise machine in the past or not, Heather said, the orientation classes offer a great way to review proper use and safety procedures. The classes take place on the first and third Wednesdays of the month and require signup with the fitness monitor before the day of class. Instruction is free, lasts about an hour and is capped at a maximum of five students. Once a resident signs up for the class, either a fitness monitor or Heather will call the day before to remind the person of the start time and location. All those attending class must wear closed-toe, closed-heel shoes.

Classes cover what part of the body each machine works, how to adjust seat heights, use the machine pins to select weight, avoid weight slamming and how to generally get in and out of each machine. In addition, Heather reminds residents about the importance of wiping down the equipment.

“I like to wipe the machine before and after a workout,” Heather said about the process that helps to reduce the spread of germs. For convenience, each fitness center is equipped with paper towels and an anti-bacterial spray.

The last part of the class is devoted to workout cards that are kept at each fitness center that help residents track their progress. Cards are kept on file at each monitor station and residents are responsible for keeping them updated.

In all, the equipment orientation class reviews the seated circuit for legs, glutes, arms and abdomen, and cardio machines like the treadmill and stair climber. Free weights are not included in the class. For residents who have specific questions about the machines, Heather is happy to address them after class.

Landscape

Practice Extra Safety When Traffic Cones Are Out

I would like to remind everyone about safety on the streets of Sun City. Please watch out for the landscape crews as they work on the streets and in the parking lots. For your safety as well as theirs, landscapers set out orange traffic cones to help signal their presence on the roadways.

This month, the Landscape Department crews will be trimming palm trees, and it can get a little confusing with the lane closures that are necessary in order to help ensure the safety of work crews, drivers and pedestrians. Please be aware of the traffic cones and workers, and take extra caution when driving by. The Department practices rolling lane closures along Del Webb when working on the palm trees in the medians. Lanes are closed as workers move along the street.

With your help and patience we will accomplish the work without anyone's getting hurt.

Thank you and have a great spring.

Security Patrol – Call 254-2303

Volunteers Invest Efforts In All Aspects of the Job

The Security Patrol car wash squad works year round, making sure the five Toyota Prius vehicles are clean as a whistle before they depart on their 24/7 shifts. The four volunteers, who also are volunteer drivers for the Patrol, show up every Friday at 10:30 a.m. at the Desert Vista headquarters. Hours vary with the season; volunteers gather at 5:30 a.m. during the summer months to beat the harsh daytime heat.

Squad members, led by mid-morning Patrol driver Dennis Nicpon, take turns directing returning vehicles into a lane next to the Patrol's entrance. From there, they go to work vacuuming interiors, cleaning windows, dusting off dashboards and wiping down exteriors. Other members of the group include Patrol treasurer Fred Hinshaw, and husband-and-wife team Donna and Ron Pfeffer.

"We've been around for more than 10 years," said Fred, who used to manage the crew for nearly a decade.

"For the first five years we were up at the Pinnacle maintenance yard at Eagle Crest. We've been down here for the past five years," Fred said.

While Fred and Dennis said it can be difficult to recruit for the squad, they are currently complete with four members and a substitute.

"We used to have a couple who were with us for five years and when they left it was like divine intervention when Ron and Donna showed up," Fred said. Ron and Donna, who drive the 8 a.m. to noon shift, have been with the team for two years.

To help identify the crew and more importantly boost its visibility while working in the parking lot, Dennis bought the volunteers neon green sweatshirts and T-shirts to wear while working.

"(The shirts) also let people know that this is another thing Security Patrol does. We clean up a lot of things like coffee stains and crumbs. There isn't supposed to be any food in the cars, except for water," Dennis said.

As work wrapped up on car No. 1, Dennis received and backed up car No. 2 into the cleaning zone.

"What we've found is that graphite accumulates in the trunk and at the bottom inside of the doors," said Ron as he flipped the switch on the shop vac. "We don't know where it comes from. We think maybe the battery attracts it. So, we vacuum first; and that's what I'm doing."

IN ONE MONTH:

Security Patrol officers checked 248 homes for vacationing homeowners, 196 residents were alerted that their garage doors had been left open after dark and 205 visitors stopped at the information centers asking for directions. Patrol drivers accumulated 12,368 miles while driving along every street in the community looking for anything that was not as it should be.

Sun City Resident Uncovers Family Secrets in Genealogy Search

~ Aileen Zsenyuk/Link

(My lifelong hobby has been genealogy. The dream of every genealogist is to find a long-lost relative, and there are several that I have searched for without success. What few genealogists think of and what I didn't know was that I was the subject of a lifelong search by someone else. That quest ended for a gentleman in Australia last November when I was located by a nephew I never knew of.

We have spent several months unraveling this story. Now we know that my father, who was born in Dublin, Ireland, was married at age 19 in Scotland, where he had been working. During a visit to his family in Dublin, he was arrested by the infamous Black and Tan for violation of the curfew and forced to leave the British Isles. A veteran of World War I, his fare to Canada was paid by the British government, but they would not pay for his pregnant wife. After my dad found work in Canada, he twice purchased boat tickets for his wife to follow him. She kept the tickets in a little box of treasures, but never followed him, choosing instead to remain in Scotland and raise their daughter Rebecca there.

My father eventually made his way to the United States. He was 34 years old when he married my mother, neglecting to tell the staunch Catholic woman that he had been married – and apparently not divorced – before.

What follows is my story, which I wrote as a writing exercise.)

Bill and Aileen Zsenyuk are among the first residents of Sun City Summerlin, having moved here from Michigan, where their three children, six grand children and six (and counting) great-grandchildren still reside. Bill had retired as Chief of Police in Milan, Michigan; Aileen, from her position as business manager to a group of radiologists in Jackson, Michigan. During the 25 years that they have lived in Sun City, Bill and Aileen enjoyed a quiet, peaceful, active life, participating in several clubs and serving as officers in some. You could say theirs is a typical, predictable existence. You could say that, but you'd be wrong.

But first, some history is in order. Over the years, Aileen's pastime has been genealogy and she spent many hours locating family members and recording family history. She has been the "go to" person regarding the family history. Aileen has published a book on her mother's Swiss branch of the family, "Family of the Jura." Aileen's father, George Murphy, was born in Dublin. Irish genealogy is complicated by war, fires, and intrigue. Many official records have been destroyed or otherwise lost. Busy preparing a written history for her father's family, Aileen thought she knew all there was to know about the Irish side of the family tree. She thought that, but she was wrong.

CUB SPOTLIGHT: Stained Glass Club Hobby Blossoms Into Beautiful Art

Club President Roger Wagar takes students on a tour of the glass studio.

Stained Glass Club President Roger Wagar has been teaching students how to craft fine pieces of glass artwork for eight years. Roger took up his hobby from scratch when he joined the Club nearly a decade ago.

"I enjoy it. It's a great hobby," said Roger, who explained how he has pieces that have traveled to Australia, England and Ireland. "My wife is into genealogy and through her projects I have made gifts for people we've visited."

Roger begins every class with an introduction of the Club and then he takes students on a tour of the studio, explaining the machinery, safety procedures, tools, and how to select, handle, cut and polish glass. For their first project, residents start off creating a tulip. The simple shape offers a great opportunity to practice cutting and polishing straight lines, as well as curves. Students get to pick their materials from the variety of glass in the club's repository, and they can borrow tools from the Club for the duration of the four classes.

After that, "You decide if you want to join the Club or not," Roger said. "If you decide to stay you can rent a tool box from the Club that has all the basic tools you'll need for $10 a month. You can do that for up to four months until you start buying your own things," he said.

Most months the club hosts a series of beginners' classes on two consecutive Monday and Tuesday evenings at Mountain Shadows.

Tulip completed and tool box rented, Roger said all students need to do is pay their $25 annual dues, sign up for a locker and start on Project No. 2. The hardest part about starting the next project, he said, is deciding what to make. And that's when the Club's library of more than 400 pattern books comes in handy. Happy soldering.

CLUB SPOTLIGHT: Men's Club

SCS Men's Club members get ready to tour the Clark County Coroner's suite during their February tour of the Las Vegas office.

Members Get a Tour of the Clark County Coroner's Office

The new SCS Men's Club is not even 1 year old, and it is already one of the most active in Sun City Summerlin. Each month the Club has a happy hour, a nature walk/lunch, a movie/dinner event and a discussion breakfast in addition to its monthly membership breakfast meeting at Desert Vista. On top of that, we had Super Bowl and Academy Awards parties. Some activities are men-only and some are coed, designed to help develop friendships among members and their significant others.

In February, the SCS Men's Club arranged two tours of the Clark County Coroner's Office with more than 60 people attending. At first, the group did not know what to expect, but soon began to understand the very important work this office accomplishes. Officer Amie began her presentation with an incredible slide show that introduced the various functions of the Clark County Coroner's office. She answered myriad questions from the group as she went along. It soon became clear that this office provides an exceptionally vital service to the residents of Clark County, which is a vast area. The Coroner's Office houses the organ donor program and is responsible for the identification of the deceased. It also performs autopsies to determine cause of death.

The Club was most impressed with the professionalism and respect for the deceased and their families extended by the Coroner's Office staff. This fact was most evident throughout the tour. Amie also explained that the popular "CSI" television has used the Clark County Coroner's Office as a valuable resource.

After the formal presentation, Club members were instructed to put on surgical garb for the tour of the actual coroner's suite that includes the autopsy rooms, prep rooms and diagnostic rooms. While the tour was very sobering, it was enormously educational and compelling. Amie was able to explain the entire process by offering up examples of events we all have heard about in the news.

In all, those attending the tour were grateful for the experience and gratified that we have such a great resource in Clark County.
