How Sun City Functions

We live in a community of 2,500 acres, 7,781 homes with 11,700 residents who have activity cards. We are diversified in our backgrounds, religion and politics, but we all moved here to retire and be with others. How does our beautiful community function so smoothly and be such a wonderful place to live? You and others like you are the answer. You care. You get involved in clubs and you volunteer to help! You help as officers in clubs, volunteer for Security Patrol or take an active role in managing the community via the Board of Directors.

Sun City Summerlin is managed by your volunteer Board of Directors. They don't get paid, but they oversee the executive director who manages the 287 employees to clean, repair, cook, trim, account and plan for the community. Each Board member volunteers to take on at least one area of interest, acting as the chairman of the Finance, Golf Oversight, Legal Services, Common Area Properties, Fitness, Community Preparedness, Information Technology, Chartered Clubs and Community Organizations and Architectural Review committees. The Link has an advisory board of interested and experienced residents who contribute their time to help produce the monthly magazine. Without residents helping the employees and the Board members, very few decisions would be made in a timely manner.

Once a month there is a Board of Directors meeting. The agenda is posted online at www.suncitysummerlin.com under "Administration." Residents should check every month to know what the Board will be discussing as it can affect you, or you may want to speak to a particular topic.

You have invested your retirement funds and time into this community, so you should know what is going on and how your money is being spent. Most changes and major decisions, including the budget, must be approved by the Board. If you would like to run for the Board just go to a committee meeting of your choice and a Board member will help you.

Committee Assignments A Big Way Board Members Serve Sun City

If you are thinking about running for SCSCAI's Board of Directors, it would help to know a little about one of the position's major responsibilities.

Sun City Summerlin operates nine volunteer committees that work to ensure everything from the Association's bylaws, CC&Rs, architectural development standards, and rules and regulations are being met. In 2014, SCSCAI celebrated its 25th anniversary, and over two and a half decades the Association has grown to become the largest HOA in the state. As you can imagine that translates into a lot of work to ensure that the community continues to thrive. Much of that work, in the form of implementing and guiding policy, is the result of work achieved by SCSCAI's committees.

Serve Sun City

Each of Sun City's nine elected board members serves as the chairman of one or more of the committees. A Board member's responsibility as chairman is to act as the liaison between the BOD and the committee. While resident volunteers make up the working arm of the group, the chairman is charged with updating the BOD on that work. Board chairmen appoint and remove committee members, and have much input into their committee's direction.

ARCHITECTURAL REVIEW COMMITTEE – ARC

Ken Caroccia, Chairman

The Architectural Review Committee is composed of Sun City resident volunteers. This committee was established to maintain and enforce the standards and guidelines set forth in the governing documents to provide an orderly and visually cohesive community. It also provides a timely review of all projects planned for the community.

Two committee members are required to review applications. Committee members come into the Community Standards office on a weekly basis to review plans. All submittals for room additions, walls/fencing, patio enclosures and patio covers are reviewed by the construction sub-committee. These members physically view the property; check measurements, etc. before approving. If applications are denied, residents have the opportunity to revise their plans or appeal to the committee at the next scheduled ARC meeting. ARC members perform inspections 120 days after an application is approved. Applications are grouped according to locations within the community to minimize the amount of travel required. Where it is necessary to enter the property, the doorbell should be rung to see if there is anyone home. If no one is home, the inspection may be made if there is access to the area to be inspected.

COMMON AREA PROPERTIES – CAP

Bruce Alitt, Chairman

On a regular basis, members of the Common Area Properties Committee conduct thorough inspections of all the Association's real and personal property. The committee determines and makes recommendations to the Board of Directors that said property is maintained in a manner to ensure safety of personnel, long life and efficient operation. The committee is available for consultation to the Finance Committee during the budget process. The committee is also consulted by the executive director on all individual purchases of machinery, electrical and mechanical equipment. This applies to new and replacement equipment.

CHARTERED CLUBS & COMMUNITY ORGANIZATIONS – CCOC

Glenda Rogers, Chairman

The president of the Board of Directors appoints Board liaisons to chair our various committees. The Board of Directors of the Association has the right to approve or disapprove any decisions made by the Chartered Clubs and Community Organizations Committee. It was an honor to accept the position as liaison from the Board to the CCOC inasmuch as I have been a member of the CCOC for approximately 10 years.

The CCOC has a procedure manual that must be followed by all clubs and community organizations. Every year, the director of Community Services, Melissa Spina, invites all club presidents to a meeting during which she discusses the CCOC procedures. The manual addresses what clubs may do, how they function and reports that need to be filed. Every club president receives a copy of this manual with all the CCOC rules and regulations. It is my job as liaison to the Board to bring all matters for approval to the Association Board.

DEED RESTRICTION HEARING COMMITTEE – DRHC

Leo Crawford, Chairman

The Deed Restriction Hearing Committee is delegated authority by the Board of Directors to hear formal complaints brought by the Association alleging violations of the governing documents. A hearing on a formal complaint shall be presided over by a hearing panel consisting of at least three members in accordance with the Association's complaint and hearing protocol. If, after a hearing, the formal complaint is upheld, the hearing panel may sanction the respondent up to and including suspension of Association privileges.

FINANCE COMMITTEE

Ken Resnik, Chairman

This committee will have general oversight of the financial policy, subject to the approval of the Board of Directors, including ways and means for obtaining funds necessary to meet the authorized budget for carrying out the work of the Association. The committee will review and make recommendations to the annual budget that is prepared by the executive director. The committee comprises three sub-committees – Investment, Audit and Insurance. My role as treasurer of the

COMMUNITY PREPAREDNESS COMMITTEE – CPC

David Steinman, Chairman

During my years on the Board of Directors I have served as chairman of ARC, Finance and Golf Oversight. I currently serve as chairman of the Community Preparedness Committee.

This past year CPC has undergone a reorganization. Five years ago, the committee had a membership in excess of 40 residents. Most recently, that number had reduced to less than 10 members.

The committee has split its major responsibilities, assigning "first responder" duties to the Security Patrol. Next, all of the community education issues have been assigned to a small group made up of residents who have remained loyal to CPC. They produce articles for the Link and promote events to teach residents about the importance of being prepared for an emergency. Recently, an evening of learning CPR and the AED was held for residents. Members of Las Vegas Fire & Rescue handled the instruction duties.

BOD has afforded a unique opportunity on the Finance Committee, where there has been some overlap. Among the committee members, there is such a variety of experience that it is exciting to serve alongside them.

FITNESS COMMITTEE

Jim Akers, Chairman

The Fitness Committee reviews and recommends to the Board of Directors improvements and enhancements to the facilities and fitness equipment. The committee reviews and suggests maintenance and operation of the fitness centers and other related community fitness assets. The committee makes recommendations regarding residents' fitness, suggestions and complaints. The committee will study other fitness-related matter as requested by the director of fitness, the executive director and/or the Board of Directors. The committee will be composed of five to seven members appointed by the chairperson.

GOLF OVERSIGHT COMMITTEE

Joe O'Connell, Chairman

It is time to decide whether you have the courage and fortitude to run for the big board as a director. If so, it would be a much-appreciated service to your fellow golfers and our Sun City residents. The job of a director is not too time consuming and it is incredibly rewarding. You also would get to see much more of Donny, Brian and Shane.

Some of the bigger projects this year for Golf Oversight included: the huge golf path removal and replacement with all cement on the Palm Valley Golf Course. Now finished, it looks and feels great. All the feedback I have received has been positive. Overseeding and the work to make our Highland Falls Golf Course water friendly (holes 6, 9, and 10) are complete. We should have our "Best of Las Vegas" course back to its playing best. Do a little practicing and get that handicap to a single digit again – even Ron Lawson can do it!

This time of year is critical to our courses. As the committee chairman, you can help control the costs and quality of our golf courses. Please support your courses and hit them straight.

IT in Sun City. We are fortunate to have residents as volunteers who bring a wealth of experience that they are willing to share to help SCSCAI improve IT support.

The Board has been very supportive of the recommendations made by the IT Committee. Several completed projects significantly improved IT support. The replacement of our cabling infrastructure and Internet access greatly improved our network speed and, most importantly, network reliability. We also outsourced most of our IT support (operations and maintenance) so we would have access to a broader range of expertise, as well as reduce our cost of IT support. The company selected, NetEffect, was hired following a request for proposal process. NetEffect is working with SCSCAI to further improve IT support. We are in the process of replacing our backup systems and implementing a virtual machine server strategy.

The next project the IT Committee will most likely take to the Board for approval will be the replacement of SCSCAI's administrative telephone system, which will not only improve telephone support but save money. There are other projects under discussion, such as expanding our Wi-Fi system.

The IT Committee is an active, talented group of residents who are dedicated to using IT to improve the experience of living in Sun City.

INFORMATION TECHNOLOGY – IT

Leo Crawford, Chairman

The Information Technology Committee is one of the chartered committees supporting SCSCAI. We meet monthly on the first Friday of the month at 1 p.m. to discuss what is happening within

LEGAL SERVICES COMMITTEE

Ellen Bachman, Chairman

I am the Sun City Board liaison and chairman of the Legal Services Committee, fondly known as LSC. Although I am a retired attorney, I am one of only four attorneys on LSC. The majority of committee members are not attorneys, but they have experience in a wide variety of fields, including law enforcement, medicine, insurance and engineering. Although it may come as a surprise, LSC does not provide legal advice to the Board of Directors or the Association. So, what does LSC do? Under Sun City's bylaws, LSC may review Sun City's governing documents, review and recommend strategies to keep legal costs down, and review legislation that may impact the Association and make recommendations to the Board regarding that legislation. Upon the request of the Board, the LSC also provides training in areas where committee members have expertise and recommends selection criteria for new legal counsel. Recent Boards have not requested training or legal counsel selection criteria. However, those are two areas to consider for the future.

Additionally, a panel of LSC members holds hearings on complaints about violations of SCSCAI's rules and regulations and development standards.

Last year, at the request of the Board, LSC began a project of reviewing Sun City's governing documents for conformity with current law and Association practice. That project is ongoing. At this writing, the committee is completing its review of the bylaws. Recommended changes will be presented to the Board for approval and, once approved, the changes will be presented to the Sun City membership for approval. The next steps for LSC involve completion of a review of Sun City rules and regulations, then SCSCAI's policies and procedures.

And Then There Were LED Lights

Link photographer Stu Gershon caught SCSCAI's Maintenance crew in action on September 23 as they worked to replace the parking lot lights at the Pinnacle with new LED lightbulbs approved by the Board of Directors. The LED lights replaced the previous Mercury Vapor 400-watt lightbulbs, and are not the same lights that the city installed in the street lamps throughout the community several years ago. SCSCAI's new lights are adjustable and can be aimed to focus the beam. It is estimated that the new lights will save the Association approximately $75,000 per year, with a return on the initial investment in two years.

Red Flags Can Signal an Opportunity for Theft

Help ensure the security of your outgoing mail by NOT RAISING your mailbox's red flag when depositing outgoing mail into your box. If you must place outbound mail in your box do so and let your mail carrier pick up the contents when he/she delivers your daily mail. For those who can make their way to the community centers, it is advised to place mail in the blue U.S. postal mailboxes. However, NEVER place your mail in the boxes after the last delivery of the day, which is usually around 1 p.m. If you have mail to drop off after 1 p.m., head to the Administration office at Mountain Shadows, where you can add your mail to the Association's daily mail basket.

Handrail a Helping Hand

SCSCAI's Maintenance Department installed a new handrail at the main entrance to the Mountain Shadows community center on Wednesday, September 16.

The handrail is intended to offer residents a little extra support while entering the building. While it is hoped that the rail helps, SCSCAI Board Secretary Ellen Bachman explained that the main entrance facing Del Webb Blvd. is not the official ADA-recognized entry to the community center. That entrance, she explained, is the side entrance that faces Echo Mesa Drive, as it is equipped with the automatic, push-button door and handicap-permit parking spaces.

Nevada Representatives Visit Sun City

Nevada State Assemblyman Glenn Trowbridge and U.S. Congressman Crescent Hardy-R-Nev. set up their office hours in Sun City to help residents work through issues from healthcare to home care. The monthly sessions are staffed by employees of the representatives and are not intended to serve as campaign stops. Make time to share an opinion, say hello, or get help with a government-related concern.

Thank You Very Much

My deepest thanks to Louis Darling, Ernando Damian and all of the Landscape Department crew for helping me through a very difficult time in my life with the passing of my wife.

Do You Know Your Home's Plumbing History? Class Action Trust Set to Expire

If your home's first escrow closed before July 17, 1991, it was part of the homes excluded from the Galvanic Class Action lawsuit upheld by the state of Nevada on July 17, 2001. The Nevada State Law for Construction Defects excluded these homes, citing they closed escrow more than 10 years before the court's certification date.

Because hundreds of homes were excluded from the lawsuit, a trust fund of $2.5 million was established to help excluded homeowners correct the problem of below-slab hot water leaks. Individual reimbursement was set at $5,000 (with proof of payment) for the termination of existing under-slab lines and the installation of a new hot water system installed in the attic.

For information on your home's first closing date, you may contact your Realtor; Sun City resident Sheila McCanna, sheilamc@cox.net; or Jennifer Warhol at Fenton Grant Mayfield Kaneda & Litt, LLP, 702-947-4900, jwarhol@fentongrant.com, the law firm assigned to manage the trust.

If you are a new homeowner and want to see if your home was or may be affected by the settlement there are a few things you can do:

- Check to see if your home has been replumbed. Have a handyman inspect your attic to see if the hot water lines have been rerouted from under the slab. If this has been done, your house should be fine.
- If water lines are not visible in your attic, your home may be included in the final distribution from the funds remaining in the trust. You will most likely want to have the water lines rerouted. Remember to save all your receipts to turn in for reimbursement. Reimbursement usually takes about 30 days.
- If you experienced a hot water leak under your slab and corrected the problem but have not yet submitted your "paid" receipts to Fenton Grant Mayfield Kaneda & Litt, LLP, you may want to do so by December 31. The trust terminates at the end of the year.

All residual funds will be equally distributed in 2016 to homes that HAVE NOT received reimbursement and/or have not experienced a hot water leak. The amount available for distribution will not be known until the fund officially closes at the end of this year. Eligible homes will receive a letter from the attorneys in early 2016.

Laughter Is the Best Medicine

Kristie McWhorter,
MS, CPT, GFI,
Director of Fitness
kristiem@suncitylv.com
fitness@suncitylv.com

It's been said that laughter is the best medicine. Laughter is a powerful antidote to stress, pain and conflict. Laughter can come from watching a comedy, relaxing with funny friends, or hearing a one-liner. Laughter is also known to be a coping strategy in hard times; it can foster bonding and group cohesion and aids in peacemaking.

Not everything can be cured with a laugh, but if it's been a while since you've had a good long belly laugh, you may want to consider adding some laughter to your life.

Laughter is a physical action that, depending on the intensity, involves flexing of facial muscles, powerful diaphragm contractions, repetitive voice sounds and other body movements such as swaying or clapping. These are all good things for our bodies.

Laughing provides the physical benefits of a mini-workout. Your heart rate, oxygen consumption, breathing rate and calorie burn all rise when laughing as muscles throughout your body are activated.

After laughing you will have relaxed muscles and lower blood pressure. Some studies show that laughing also can help prevent heart disease. Laughter can decrease stress hormones and increase immune system defenses, and it may increase pain tolerance.

Laughter and humor also can be used to help relieve stress and tension and help increase your ability to cope with a negative situation in a more optimistic and hopeful way. Laughter can help people connect and get along with each other. A positive and joyful attitude can be an important component of avoiding loneliness and social isolation. That's a health benefit for you, and as a side effect you help spread humor and laughter to others.

Laughing is important for both our physical, mental and emotional health. Keep looking for and finding things to laugh about.

"Your sense of humor is one of the most powerful tools you have to make certain that your daily mood and emotional state support good health."

It's a Shared Space - With so many amenities available, it's tempting to think of our fitness facilities as our own personal spaces. However, they are shared areas. Remember to clean the equipment after use, consider others when using free weights and floor space, and keep in mind that space is limited in the locker rooms. A little compromise goes a long way toward keeping our facilities welcoming to everyone.

What is Cardio Training? How to Get Started (Part 2)

It can be difficult to know how to begin exercising. We know we should, but how do we get started? Here are some tips to help you get started and feel better now. Choose an activity that you enjoy. The best movement for you is the one you will do. Whatever you choose needs to involve continuous movement of your large muscles. For example, biking, walking, swimming and using the NuStep, stair stepper and elliptical are great ideas. Our fitness centers have a wide variety of cardio equipment to choose from that will make it easier for you to decide what will work best for you. If you are not sure what cardio machine would be best, sign up to participate in one of our Equipment Orientations (see Page 23 for dates and time).

Start with two or three days per week with a rest day between workouts. Gradually add more days as your stamina improves. Remember to begin slowly at 5-10 minutes per day. It takes time to build your endurance in your heart and muscles. Only do what you can handle and when you start to feel like you can do more, do it!

Going slow at first and allowing your body to adapt to your new cardio program is how you can make the changes you want with your health and avoid injuries.

For the first three weeks don't worry about your distance or how fast you are going. Instead, focus on showing up so you are creating the habit of exercising. It takes 21 days to create a new habit. When you follow through with this new commitment it will give you a great sense of accomplishment and your body will be feeling better, too.

Next month I'll talk about how to enhance your cardio program. For those who already have a steady cardio regimen, kick it up a notch and add some interval training.

Get moving! Our bodies are meant to move, and if we don't move them, we will lose our ability to thrive.

Diabetes patients may now be able to stop and even reverse many complications and symptoms that make diabetes so debilitating.

Artificial Pancreas Treatment can help eliminate diabetes complications once and for all. Now patients with Type 1 and Type 2 diabetes may be able to stop and often reverse complications, leaving them free to enjoy the quality of life they once had.

Diabetes patients around the globe are experiencing reversals in diabetes complications following treatment: tissue heals faster and more wholly, drastically reducing cases of amputations. Heart diseases, stroke risk and high blood pressure are all significantly lessened. Blindness in patients is being prevented and more than 50 percent of patients experience considerably fewer kidney problems.

Cataract Surgery Changed the Way I See the World ~ By Ellen Greenspan

(Editor's note: Link contributing writer Ellen Greenspan underwent surgery to remove cataracts in both of her eyes in August. In this account, she aims to help anyone who may be facing the same surgery understand what to expect.)

What Is a Cataract? The Mayo Clinic defines a cataract as “a clouding of the normally clear lens of the eye.”

I knew my eyesight had deteriorated when I couldn't read the large menu sign at a fast food restaurant. I made an appointment with an eye doctor, who diagnosed cataracts in both of my eyes and scheduled surgery to remove them.

In itself, the surgical procedure usually takes about a half-hour. Time at the surgical center throughout the process, though, may take up to four hours. Pre-operative concerns measure blood pressure, blood sugar, oxygen level, heart rate and temperature. At least 15 eye drops were instilled to dilate, prepare and numb my eye while I was in the pre-op area. Next, I was on a gurney attired in an unflattering hospital gown and I had not had anything to eat or drink for 12 hours. Still, my blood sugar – I am diabetic – and my blood pressure numbers were elevated. A mild sedative from the anesthesiologist soothed my anxiety. Once that was taken care of, I was ready for surgery.

In the operating room I was aware of everyone – the surgeon, an anesthesiologist, the optical tech assistant and a registered nurse. The doctor numbed my dilated eye and said I would be awake but comfortable. He explained that I would see only a bright light and he would talk to me as he progressed, but that I should not feel any discomfort to the surgical eye. He was truthful; I was grateful. Occasionally, he said “Look up” or “Look down,” or he reminded me not to move my eye as he worked. I heard him clearly, but all I saw was a bright light. He told me when the cataract was gone and when he was about to insert the clear replacement lens. I neither felt, nor sensed anything.

Following the surgery, a protective shield was taped over my eye, which I was to wear until the next morning and then for the following few nights while I slept. I was light-headed, but sat up as I was moved to the recovery room. In a little while, I drank a coveted glass of cold water and a friend drove me home. By the next day, vision in my “new” eye was excellent. Without needing corrective eyeglasses, I drove my car.

SCSCAI Board President David Steinman had cataract removal surgery more than 12 years ago. He told me, “The most important issue is for you to get the other ‘new’ eye quickly. Only then will the true, full miracle become a reality.” Respecting David's advice, I had my second eye repaired two weeks later.

After cataract removal surgery there's a month-long regimen of instilling a horde of daily eye drops, essential to avoid inflammation, infection and promote general healing. The drops are very expensive, encouraging me to become skilled at getting them into my eyes, not running down my cheek and off my chin.

I wear reading glasses for close work, but my distance vision is as keen as a hawk's eye. Through my new eyes, the world looks brighter, more colorful; it's beautiful. No pain, big gain.

Mistinguett Productions presents

Legendary Ladies of

BROADWAY

Sunday, November 15, 3 p.m. · $20

Bill Fayne has put together an amazing show, featuring four of the best singers in Las Vegas. Ashley Fuller, Anne Martinez, Robin Vincent and Zipporah Peddle will pay tribute to the greatest leading ladies in Broadway history. The featured women are Mary Martin, Gwen Verdon, Chita Rivera, Barbra Streisand, Sutton Foster, Bernadette Peters, Audra McDonald, Liza Minelli and Julie Andrews including the music from "Mame," "Cabaret," "My Fair Lady," "The Sound of Music," "Chicago" and many, many more. Don't miss this evening of great Broadway hits produced and directed by Mistinguett.

"SHELLEY FISHER'S 'DEM BOYS FROM CHICAGO™'"

Saturday, November 21, 7 p.m. · $15

Shelley Fisher is an American entertainer, songwriter and actor, as well as an author, educator and social activist. He has lived and performed all over the world. He performed his composition "Lonesome Traveler" onscreen in the film "Drifting Clouds," the winner of the Cannes Film Festival in 1996, and he headlined in the Baccarat Bar at the Mirage Resort from 2002 to 2005. Shelley Fisher's "Dem Boys From Chicago™" makes its third appearance in the Starbright Theatre with an updated repertoire, as well as the standard jazz, soul, blues and gospel songs. This show celebrates the contributions of Nat "King" Cole, Lou Rawls, Willie Dixon and Sam Cooke. Fisher is supported by Las Vegas favorite Ronnie Payne and Orchestra.

Fresh from their sold-out spring performance, the pianist is invited to their winter show. From the opening "Season" to the closing "Twas the Night Before Christmas," you will be treated to a vocal concert that embraces the holiday season. The opening song sets the proper mood for the evening. The featured songs include "Jinglebell Rock," "All Those Things That We Do for Hanukkah" and musical surprises. The performance is a holiday song by Silvertones Musical Duo. The pianist's skilled craftsmanship on the piano complements the vocalists. CLUB SPOTLIGHT:

Billiards Club – Pool, Billiards, What's the Difference?

Do you know the difference between “pool” and “billiards?” You might be surprised to learn that the Billiard room at Desert Vista doesn’t have any billiard tables, and that the Billiards Club meets to play pool, not billiards. Confused? Nowadays the terms tend to be interchangeable. A pool table has pockets and a billiard table does not.

The game has been around a long time. The first recorded pool table is reported to have belonged to Louis XI of France in the late 1400s; tables were first brought to the United States in the 1600s. There are even historic reports of George Washington winning a pool match in 1748.

The word “pool” itself is believed to have evolved from rooms in gambling halls where people bet on horse races and “pooled” their money together to determine the odds and the payoffs. Pocket billiard tables were introduced to these rooms to entertain the bettors between horse races and the name stuck.

Members of the Billiards Club meet to play pool Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays at Desert Vista. The president of the Club, Ron Hill, likes the challenge of the game as well as the camaraderie and the fact that each individual player is responsible for the outcome of the game, with the exception of a small percentage of luck.

“The challenge of the game is tremendous. It takes a lot of concentration and knowing how to play defense,” said Club member Fred Sistilli.

Billiards Club President Ron Hill, top, and Club member Fred Sistilli enjoy the challenge of games they find in the Club room at Desert Vista.

The Billiard Room is open during the facility's operating hours. All Sun City residents are welcome to play and need only to present their Sun City membership card to use the room or pool balls. If you are interested in joining the Club, call Ron Hill, 242-5948.

CLUB SPOTLIGHT: Computer Club – Taming the Technology Maze

The Sun City Summerlin Computer Club (SCSCC) is, most of the time, the largest club in our community, often having over 1,000 members. Most of our members want to learn about the new technology, and they want to communicate with the rest of the world. They also utilize the Hardware Special Interest Group to have their computers repaired by our very knowledgeable volunteers. With the dues being a reasonable $10 per year (currently only $5 for the balance of the year), members are entitled to come to as many as 25 seminars and labs each month, attend monthly meetings that often include an informative lecture or demonstration, and they can also get their computer repaired or get help in the maintenance of new and ever-changing technology.

The President of the SCSCC is Howard Verne. Howard believes that one of the main goals of the club is to educate the membership. The club's motto, "Members helping members," embodies this goal. In order to achieve this, the Club maintains two rooms – a classroom and a lab. The classroom is used for lectures and seminars, while the lab, with 15 laptop stations, is opened at certain times for Club members to use special equipment or to have a hands-on lecture.

The club is also fortunate to have a group of knowledgeable members who offer seminars, lectures or labs on various aspects of computing. They do this as volunteers, and are assisted by a regular group of greeters, who are also volunteers and responsible for welcoming people when they come to the classes, making coffee and assisting instructors. Considering all the work done by members, SCSCC is truly a Club that practices people helping people!

It will begin at 11 a.m. at the buffet at Red Rock Resort. There will be an in-room craft fair on Saturday, December 5. Come from 9 a.m. to noon on Thursdays to help us get ready for the sale. Call Gillian, 243-0997, for more information.

Shuffleboard

At a recently held luncheon, the Shuffleboard Club gave recognition to two of its most dedicated members, Phil Gonzales and Leigh Grindelund, for their time and commitment to readying the courts for play.

Throughout the year, they can be seen arriving approximately one hour before game time to sweep, clean and spread beads for play. The Club is most grateful for their service.

Attention all Club members: Election of officers will be held at the annual business meeting the morning of November 12, 8:30 a.m., at the shuffleboard courts. Regular play is at 2 a.m. Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays. We also invite all to join us on Mondays on the indoor courts at an off-site location. New members are always welcome. We always have room for more players and especially new residents moving into our community. You can get more information by going to our website, www.scssoftball.com.

Spanish

The search for a new board is ongoing, and will be voted on November 25 at Sun Shadows. Classes are going great and growing in size.
