PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

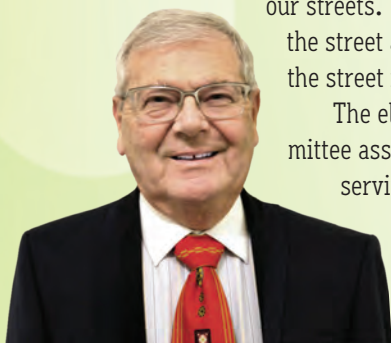

Starting on March 1st the budgeting process for fiscal year 2022-2023 begins. The process will take two or three weeks and can be watched via zoom. The Board welcomes comments from the residents on projected expenditures, reserve account balances and capital expenses to name but a few of the topics that will be discussed. Each Department Director will present their requests and reasons for those requests for operating funds, capital expenses and suggestions as well as requests for the expenditure of funds out of the Reserve Fund for the next year. The Board will not only decide on a budget to be presented to all the residents but will talk about potential expenditures two, three, or even five years in the future.

You have probably seen the requests for residents to answer survey questions. They have been sent out in the form of an email blast and can be answered online. One can also go to the Sun City web site and take the survey there as well. The Future Planning Committee has been meeting for about four months now and is gathering data to determine where you, the residents, want our community to be or to be heading towards in the next two to five years. The committee is still in the data gathering stage of this process. Clearly Covid has hampered our efforts to gather data on facility usage as residents' usage is being skewed because of the pandemic and the health concerns of the residents. The process will continue for the next few months.

Spring is just around the corner and with that we will be able to go out and enjoy one of the most comfortable times, weather wise, in the Las Vegas Valley. Spring also brings an even greater increase in the landscape and home construction in our community. That means that there will be even more dumpsters on our streets. Although the contractors are supposed to put pylons down and reflective tape on the dumpsters they unfortunately do not always do so. If you see a dumpster without reflective tape, call the Security Patrol (702-254-2303) and they will come out and put reflective tape on the dumpsters not already marked. Also be aware of the landscapers who put rocks and other landscaping materials in our streets. These items should have pylons marking their presence on the street as well. Again, if you observe landscaping materials in the street not marked by pylons call the Security Patrol.

The election for Board members has just concluded and committee assignments will be made shortly. If you have an interest in serving on a committee please email that interest to our Executive Director, Mitzi Mills, (MitziM@suncitylv.com) noting what committee that you would like to serve on and any background information that would highlight your qualifications.

As always: Be Safe. Be Kind to each other and enjoy living in this great community.

YOUR CLUTTERED MIND

By Molly Sher/Link

Spring reminds me of getting more organized, an extra cleaning of the house. But what about spring cleaning your mind? Do you ever feel like your brain is on overdrive, or there is so much "chatter" going on in your head it's hard to concentrate? Is there such a thing as decluttering the mind?

You've probably all heard of short term memory loss as one gets older, remembering the stories of the past but forgetting something that happened yesterday. I have my own personal theory; I believe that when we are young and entering the world of interactions, life experiences, jobs, relationships, etc., everything is fresh and new, and our brain can take it all in. But, if you live long enough and if you have had many opportunities as well as challenges in life over time, I think the brain, like a computer, becomes "full," and certain things that aren't that important to us at this point in our lives are simply "deleted."

In addition, it is my belief that we are living life at a faster pace, with news and information enveloping and overwhelming our minds. Whether I'm correct in my theories or not, there is plenty of evidence demonstrating that decluttering the mind can be done.

I turned to several sources to find answers; I looked at research and articles from business companies such as Forbes to Psychology Today to the writings of Deepak Chopra, a well-known advocate for alternative medicines.

I've taken what I thought were the best suggestions from the research I reviewed for achieving a more organized, peaceful mind.

Stop Multi-tasking: Numerous studies have shown that multi-tasking cuts down on productivity. It is suggested that you prioritize what you need to complete and concentrate on the most important. For the set amount of time that you have, set an alarm so your time is managed well.

Declutter physical space: It is recommended that you declutter your workspace, and then put away everything for the night. Physical clutter can lead to mental clutter; it bombards the mind with excessive stimuli, not only forcing the brain to work overtime but can lead to mental exhaustion.

Journaling: Journaling can help relax the mind and organize thoughts. Your journal could be as simple as "bullet journaling" your worries, your goals and concerns regarding a relationship that could be draining your energy.

Limit information coming in via social media venues: Research has shown that overloading on exposure to social media can lead to depression and loneliness.

Take time to unwind: Switch off the phones/laptops and do something that makes you happy. A walk outside or a nap or working on a puzzle for 30 minutes or so will "reboot" the brain.

This year, live your best life by decluttering the mind!

"Be a curator of your life. Slowly cut things out until you're left only with what you love, with what's necessary, with what makes you happy."

COMMUNITY STANDARDS

ARC, Community Standards, and the Violation Process

Recently there have been a number of questions raised about the Development Standards of Sun City and how they are applied. This is a commonly misunderstood area, and we feel it deserves some explanation and clarification for our homeowners.

ARC is the Architectural Review Committee. The Committee is made up of volunteer residents who are appointed by the Sun City Board of Directors to serve for a one-year term. Per our CC&Rs, the ARC is charged with revising, interpreting, and upholding the Development Standards, approving applications for exterior work, and inspecting that work after completion to ensure compliance. ARC also has the ability to grant a variance to the Development Standards, if a majority feels it is warranted, reasonable, and within the bounds of maintaining community compatibility. ARC does not investigate or determine violations, assess fines, or call residents to hearings. Per the CC&Rs, the decisions of ARC are final on all matters.

Community Standards is a Sun City administrative department, currently having three employees. It is their function to process applications, support ARC, assist homeowners with questions and information, maintain files and records, and process violation submissions. They also maintain samples of approved color palettes and materials. The Director of the department reports to the Executive Director.

On occasion, a resident will report a suspected violation of the Development Standards and expect immediate action to be taken. There is a process for this in place. First, the reported violation is investigated by staff. If found to be a violation, a letter is sent to the homeowner indicating the problem and seeking resolution. If, after a period of time is allowed and the problem has not come into compliance, a second letter indicating a hearing and potential fine is sent. If the violation continues, the homeowner will receive notice of being called before the Hearing Committee. The Hearing Committee determines if a fine should be levied or not, according to the SCSCAI fine policy. Fines can be ongoing, can continue on a weekly basis, and can eventually become a lien.

Residents reporting potential violations often call seeking to know the status of a complaint or report. By Nevada statute, all information regarding a violation, its status, its resolution, or its fines, are confidential. We are not allowed to give any answers regarding the matter to anyone other than required staff and the Board. While this can often be frustrating to the reporting party, it is the law.

As an example, if a reported violation is corrected within the designated timeframe, it has been cured and is no longer a violation. If it remains, either it was not found to be a violation, or it may be proceeding through the hearing and fine process.

We hope that this has helped to clear up any misunderstandings about how standards, variances and violations are handled. If you have further questions, you are welcome to contact the Community Standards office for further clarification.

The Amazing, Wonderful Tree

Monday, January 17, 2022, was a beautiful day in many ways. The climate was wonderful while people gathered outside safely, in the midst of Covid, to see each other once again in person. Temple Bet Knesset Bamidbar donated a beautiful tree to Sun City Summerlin which was planted by the fountain at Mountain Shadows Community Center at a ceremony conducted by BKB Spiritual Leader, Moreh Alan G Spector. At the ceremony, which commemorates the Jewish New Year of the Trees and honors our environment and the blessings of nature, BKB Co-Presidents Arlene Goodman and Jay Shultz, and others, read beautiful poetry about the wonder of the trees and foliage all around us. SCS Executive Director, Mitzi Mills, spoke to the large group accepting the contribution and remarking how wonderful it was for the Jewish community to celebrate this age old tradition and contribute a beautiful tree to the community which will give shade for generations to come. Moreh Spector closed the ceremony by thanking Mitzi and her staff and offering the thought that a tree is like a person . . . firmly rooted on earth, but arms reaching upward to the heavens. Everyone had the chance to enjoy being outdoors and seeing friends again . . . and share some tasty dates, which are a typical fruit of Israel. It was a very beautiful day in many ways.

FUTURE PLANNING COMMITTEE

Why Should I Complete the Future Planning Committee Survey?

- The Future Planning Committee (FPC) has been discussing improvements and potential changes to the community for a few months now. The FPC would like input from the residents of the Sun City Community.
- You have a committee that will read every submission to this survey. Instead of asking yourself, "why won't anyone listen to me?", you now have an effective way of communicating your ideas and thoughts to the FPC.
- As stated above, each submission will be read in its entirety. Then a master list will be compiled, and another survey will be sent out to narrow down the field to the most important areas of improvement.
- All requests will be answered as quickly as possible for each area of inquiry. Unfortunately, this will take some time, but all areas will be addressed. This is a long reaching project, so some of the projections will be in a time frame of 5 years or more.
- The survey can be completed on-line by entering your responses directly into the box provided for each question, or a copy of the survey can also be obtained from the Social Monitor stations at the Pinnacle, Mountain Shadows and Desert Vista to be filled out by hand.

Thank you in advance for your participation in this important endeavor.

St. Patrick's Day

STORIES

Irish for a Day!

Dia duit (Hello)

I am a first generation Irish Catholic woman from Philadelphia, PA. I am the only child of Michael Flatley (not the dancer) born in Co. Mayo Ireland. My father came to America in 1949 and was drafted in the US Army. He served two years as an Irish Citizen. He was the youngest of 8 children. His two sisters were both Nuns. My mother Marie Finn was born in Philadelphia; however, her mother Mary McCarthy was born in Co. Cork Ireland and her father Patrick Fin was born in Co. Galway.

I have been across "The Pond" several times for family weddings. One in Tipperary and one in Westport. The wedding receptions began around 3 p.m. and ended the next morning (in both cases) at 6 a.m. They do know how to party in Ireland. LOL.

I have lived in Sun City Summerlin for 4 years and my only disappointment is that there is not an Irish Club. I would love to meet other "Irishmen/Irishwomen."

May the road rise up to meet you.

May the wind be always at your back

May the sun shine warm upon your face;

The rains fall soft upon your fields and until we meet again,

May God hold you in the palm of his hand.

Maureen Flatley Goetz

"The Luck of the Irish?"

Those who immigrated here seemed to have made their own 'luck', my grandparents included. As they emigrated here from Ireland, like all immigrants, they came here to have a better life, not just for themselves, but their kids, kids like my dad. There was a time in Ireland where Catholics couldn't vote, nor own property, and landing on Ellis Island, they faced signs in the windows, "Irish Need Not Apply". Not the welcome they expected; needless to say, the Irish rebelled and for some, bricks were once referred to as Irish Confetti. Many an Irishmen used to say, "If it wasn't for bad luck, we wouldn't have any at all!", and then there was Murphy's Law - If anything can go wrong, it will.

My Grandparents moved farther west to a coal mining town in Pennsylvania. Life didn't become the glamorous dream they had crossing the Atlantic. The little house had an outside pump for water, and a not so attractive outhouse; their survival depended on the coal mines where your life revolved around the 'Company Store' (as referenced in the Ernie Ford song 16 Tons). And yet, Charlie Sr., was able to eventually buy into a bar (so appropriate for Irishmen) and serve as a part-time constable (also, very appropriate for Irishmen). Through it all, my grandfather never drank, neither did Charlie Jr. (my Dad), but, being truthful, my Welsh Grandmother on my Mom's side more than made up for it!

Sadly, due to the hardships of the immigrant life, they had passed away and I never really knew my Grandparents, just heard stories, and perhaps just folklore, but they're a part of who I am being second generation. We often forget how hard the lives were of those who came before us, how they all had dreams, some fulfilled and others, well, have fallen short. But whether they travel hundreds or thousands of miles, anyone who immigrated here seemed to be running to or running from something, many of them facing nothing but the hard life of back-breaking manual labor jobs just to put food on the table.

As for me- I could not have grown up MORE Irish. Attending St. Canice for 12 years, there were five Patty's in my class; our school's colors were green and white, with a shamrock as our school emblem. Our priests were Fr. McDonough, Fr. Mc Veigh, Fr. O'Brien, and Fr. Fallon (I think it was the law they all had to be Irish!); the basketball team was the Fighting Irish. And even though I lost my dad years ago, I still can hear him whistling Peg o' My Heart and get a little teary when I hear Danny Boy. Being honest, I have never found a four leaf clover, nor a pot of gold, and never saw a leprechaun, but every once in a while, I still look around just in case.

It matters not our complexion, our dialect or accent, our ethnicity, or our religious beliefs when you think about it, in the eyes of Native Americans, the rest of us are ALL immigrants. So, come St. Patrick's Day, let us remember all the immigrants who came to this country, a country still a work in progress, and give not just thanks but immeasurable credit to all those who left 'home' and made a new life in a country that was not always welcoming. One cannot imagine what life was for them 'back in the day', and yet, for many of us, our lives here are so much more than they could have hoped for or imagined. So, not just on St. Patrick's Day, but for all the years ahead, no matter where your ancestors originated . . . may Irish eyes smile upon you with an Irish Blessing: May the wind be always at your back. May the sunshine warm upon your face; the rains fall soft upon your fields and until we meet again, may God hold you in the palm of His hand.

Patti Tripp

"You are Either Irish or You Aren't!" or "You are Irish or Wish You Were!"

These remarks were what I grew up hearing. In addition, I was taught to say some of my prayers in Gaelic. And when all the adults were in a merry mood, they recited poems about how Englishmen were not so nice.

Yes, my Mackey and Bresnahan relatives were proud of their Irish heritage and made sure I and other younger members of the family would carry on that pride. Most of them came from County Cork, arriving in the United States from the 1860s through 1914. My great grandfather brought along his shillelagh which I now have. Genealogy research has helped me to document earlier ancestors. As I am the oldest cousin of the many descendants, I try to pass along the facts and anecdotal stories for those still to come.

Most of my childhood neighbors were Irish but I lived near the edge of that community which bordered a Polish area. I could walk to the Polish school, two blocks away, but was quickly transferred to the parochial Irish school when old enough to cross busy streets. Since the Priest at the parochial Irish school was a family member, this too played a part in that decision.

Family was important, and my many relatives gathered together weekly. Major holidays were always spent together until finally no one had a house large enough to accommodate eight families. Reunions now help keep the growing family of cousins together, including one in Las Vegas several years ago. One of the first groups I joined in Las Vegas was the Irish American Club. I had the honor of carrying my great grandfather's shillelagh as the club marched in the city's St. Patrick's Day Parade. My wear'n of the Green that day and every March 17th is my great grandmother's shamrock pin stamped with the words "Erin Go Bragh", Ireland Forever

I have visited Ireland and kissed the Blarney Stone and even found a small business owner there named Mackey. If you want to be Irish this year, tradition demands corned beef, boiled potatoes, and cabbage on St. Patty's Day, which I observe; and if you clink your glasses, I wish you Slainte (good health).

As you can probably guess, this was typed on a laptop where the opening page is a large green shamrock. Pride in my past continues but I am definitely a proud citizen of the United States.

Jo Ann Mackey Malkin

Irish for a Day!

My name is Michael Carroll, and both my mother and father are of Irish heritage. I have always been interested in my family history and have spent years doing genealogy research. The surnames I descend from are Carroll, Dunne, Carr, McGinley, Sheehan, Kieley, Farrell, Gillespie, and Smiddy. I can trace my Carroll heritage to the Carroll's of Oriel clan, from a large region North of Dublin. Carroll translates to "fierce warrior" and Oriel translates to "gold." In the Gaelic culture, to keep the peace, they traded hostages between clans, usually a Chieftain's son. The Carroll's of Oriel were famous for their warm hospitality, treating their hostages like family and adorning them with gold. My family can trace back to King Darius who granted land to St Patrick to build the first church in Ireland. I have been fortunate to travel to Ireland three times. The first time was for my honeymoon, where a great deal of time was spent visiting graveyards and searching for my ancestor's headstones. I have been trying to make up for that blunder ever since. I look forward to following my tradition on St. Patrick's Day of celebrating with homemade Irish soda bread slathered with butter and washed down with Guinness. Slainte!

HEALTH & FITNESS

Eat Right and Sleep Well: National Nutrition Month and Sleep Awareness Week/World Sleep Day

eat right. Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics

March is National Nutrition Month! This month is all about making informed food choices and practicing healthy eating habits.

How much do YOU know about good nutrition? Healthy eating goes beyond eating fruits and vegetables and drinking plenty of water. Take this quiz, developed by the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics, and see just how much you know. Who knows, you may learn something!

Questions:

1. Most Americans consume more than enough calcium, potassium, vitamin D and dietary fiber.
2. Only people with medical conditions, such as diabetes or high blood pressure, need to limit their intake of added sugars and salt.
3. It's a good idea to wash all fruits and vegetables, even ones with peels that may not be eaten.
4. Drinking milk is the only way to meet the daily recommendation of three cups from the Dairy Group.
5. A vegetarian diet can provide adequate protein for athletes.
6. All carbohydrate foods, also known as "carbs," are the same and provide no nutritional value.
7. Using MyPlate as a guide, half the plate should include fruits and vegetables.
8. All vegetables offer the same types and amounts of vitamins and minerals.
9. Only foods that taste salty are high in sodium.
10. A registered dietitian nutritionist can help you develop a healthy eating plan that is as unique as you are.

Answers:

1. FICTION: The intake of foods that provide these important nutrients is less than what is recommended for most people in the United States. Including more fruits, vegetables, beans, dairy, and whole grains would help individuals get more of these nutrients that are needed for good health.
2. FICTION: It is recommended that all Americans over the age of 2 limit sources of added sugars to less than 10 percent of their total calories, and children under 2 should avoid all sources of added sugars. For salt, also known as sodium, less than 2,300 milligrams per day is recommended and even less for children under the age of 14.

3. FACT: All produce should be washed under running water even if the peel will not be eaten. This is because dirt and bacteria can be transferred from the peel to the inside of the fruit or vegetable as it is sliced or peeled. No soap should be used, but a produce brush is recommended when washing firmer produce, such as melons and potatoes.
4. FICTION: Yogurt, cheese, buttermilk, and fortified soy milk also count as a 1 cup-equivalent from this MyPlate food group.

5. FACT: A well-planned vegetarian eating style that includes adequate calories and a variety of foods can meet the protein needs of athletes. For personalized nutrition guidance, consult a registered dietitian nutritionist.
6. FICTION: Carbohydrates are the body's main source of energy. Many nutritious foods are sources of carbohydrate, including fruits, vegetables, and whole grains. These foods provide vitamins, minerals and dietary fiber, which can positively affect our health.
7. FACT: MyPlate represents a meal that includes fruits and vegetables on half of the plate and the other half is divided to include grains and a protein food. To complete the meal, a serving of dairy is recommended.

8. FICTION: Eating a variety of vegetables throughout the week, including beans and peas, dark-green, red and orange, starchy and other vegetables will provide a variety of important nutrients like beta-carotene, vitamin C, zinc, potassium, folate and iron.
9. FICTION: While some foods may taste salty, others may not, and this can also vary based on the individual. Most of the salt we consume comes from foods that are already prepared. Choose foods with lower amounts of sodium by comparing their Nutrition Facts Labels and look for descriptions such as "No Salt Added" or "Reduced Sodium" when shopping. Cooking at home allows you to control the amount of salt in your meals. When eating out, request sauces and condiments be served on the side or ask if lower sodium options are available.

10. FACT: When it comes to a healthy eating routine, one size does not fit all - everyone is unique. Nutrient needs vary based on our age, activity level, sex, health conditions and other factors. Registered dietitian nutritionists, also known as RDNs, can provide personalized nutrition advice to meet your goals.

We are holding another Healthy Cooking Demo on Wednesday, March 23rd; followed by two great seminars: "Food is Medicine" on March 25, and "What is Intermittent Fasting?" on March 30th.

Good-Bye Sun City Summerlin

It is with mixed feelings that I say good-bye to Sun City Summerlin. On one hand, I am very excited to be moving to Texas to be closer to my daughter and new grandson-to-be. On the other hand, I will miss so many people here. Over the past five years, it has been such a pleasure working with the Health & Fitness staff, Fitness Monitors, and the SCSCAI management team. The friendliness, caring, and support I have received from the community has been overwhelming. I wish you all the very best!

Friday March 25 at Noon Desert Vista

Dr. Anne Weisman is the Director of Wellness & Integrative Medicine with Kerkorian School of Medicine at UNLV. Her presentation will focus on how we nourish ourselves each day, how to learn mindful meditation with eating, discuss how foods make us feel, and learn some strategies to support our health with food.

What is Intermittent Fasting?

Wednesday, March 30 at Noon Desert Vista

Join Barbara Swanson, author of Beyond Foods: The Handbook of Functional Nutrition. Barbara first experienced the power of adopting a "gut-healthy" diet in her 30's. Three decades later, science is catching up to the power of gut health, and she is convinced as ever that choosing functional health is the way towards great health. There's a lot of buzz around the benefits of Intermittent Fasting. Learn the facts about what IF involves, and how you can easily begin to enjoy the benefits of this health practice.

“As I See It . . . ”

Time to Blossom

By Alan G. Spector /Link

Where I come from (Chicago), the snow falls in November and is still on the ground in March. We saw the sun sporadically, and I seemed to never stop shivering for months. Here in LV, we complain if the temperature dips to an unbearable 39 degrees, and the parkas come out at anything below 50.

Somehow, this year, it seems like we have come through a long, dark, cold Winter. For the past 2 years, many of us have lost dear friends or relatives, been separated from friends and family, and had to change our lifestyles dramatically. Now we are in March 2022. We all have received our vaccines and boosters, been tested and re-tested, and it feels like we are on the other side of this incredible pandemic. I am writing this at the end of January, so it is difficult to accurately forecast our status about the need for masks, distancing, etc. from here, but one thing is for sure . . . spring will be here.

I always loved Spring – I love watching the plants start to bud, being allowed to water more than once a week, and breaking out the fertilizer and new plantings. Spring is a time of re-birth and re-dedication . . . a time for Easter and Passover. It is a time to renew friendships and try new things and kick back a bit to just "smell the roses." Somehow, this year, Spring seems to be taking a new and special significance. We all can take a deep breath and feel the oxygen bring our bodies to life. It feels so good to be on the other side of "winter", even if not totally.

Here are six Spring Resolutions to refresh and renew your life – they're sure to help make your COVID / Winter doldrums a thing of the past. (Paraphrased from Princess Ivana, a modern princess married to a real Italian prince!)

If you want to make changes, take it in steps. All right, you try on your lighter weight clothes, and all you can see is that they don't quite fit the way you want. Face it: We all put on winter weight (Covid pounds). It's not uncommon. We need more calories because of the colder weather, and so we eat more and higher carb foods to keep warm. We also had much more "home time" sitting around and, yes, cooking and eating.

New attitude: "Hey, you're looking pretty good for the end of the winter." Accentuate the positives, as the song goes. Start with baby steps. Promise yourself a ten-minute routine in the mornings, maybe a simple fun dance DVD that gets you moving for the day. As you build up stamina, you may want to lengthen your routine. No time? A ten-minute workout is better than none. Take plenty of moments to honor your progress with a big "Way to go!"

Color therapy for you and your wardrobe. It's a fact that colors affect our moods. Most of us have spent the past months not going out and seeing people and covered up with heavy grays, blacks and browns. Want an instant boost? Turn to vibrant high-energy colors like pinks, greens, yellows, oranges, and blues. We all have certain colors that make us feel happy and more energized. These are usually the colors that make us feel beautiful, too.

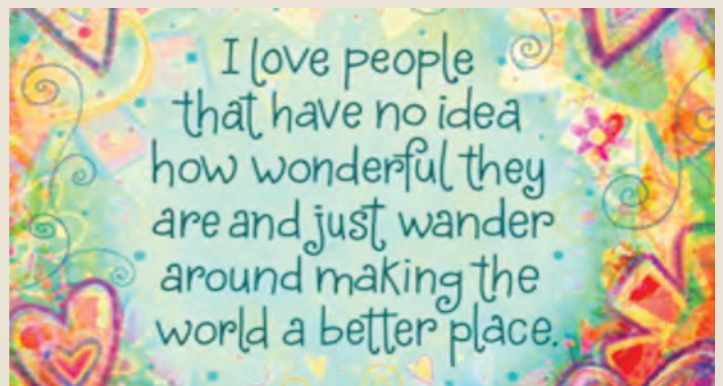

Get outside and play. Take advantage of the warmer weather and longer daylight to reconnect with your body. Go for walks. Spend more time with your grandchildren. Meet up with friends on the patio or park.

Try something new you've always wanted to do. Whether it's trying out a dance class or yoga, or a new park to explore, give yourself permission to do something you want to do, that is just for you. Feel free to flit around like a butterfly. If you try something new and don't like it, drop it and find something you really like. Enjoyment is the key to springtime renewal.

Eat more fresh foods. Good nutrition affects mood, energy and beauty. "It's what's inside that counts" is really true. Take advantage of the spring harvest with delicious beauty foods like asparagus, strawberries and cherries. Asparagus is known as the ultimate detox vegetable. Strawberries are high in Vitamin C, which produces collagen and prevents wrinkles. Cherries are considered both a brain and beauty food, with some of the highest levels of antioxidants of all fruits.

Laugh and reconnect. Social life been sluggish during Covid and the winter hibernation? It's time to connect with friends. Try to make a weekly or monthly date with your friends – and keep it (with a mask if required). Without a good dose of fun and laughter, life gets dull and so do we. We owe it to ourselves to book fun into our busy schedules. Every spring flower needs plenty of water, air and sunshine – and so do we.

So, here's to Spring . . . the Spring of our lives. Let's live it . . . we deserve it. We struggled and sacrificed . . . and survived. Now, let's welcome the Spring . . . loudly!! Remember . . . on our life clocks . . . we Spring forward!

"...as Irish eyes smile on everyone!"

St. Patty's Day's approaching, time for puttin' on the 'green' – they'll be shamrocks showing everywhere – and bars with Irish themes.

Not all parades will happen, but celebrations still take place – with shamrocks made from paper, and at times, outlined in lace.

While some tell family stories, embellished now and then – from leprechauns to pots of gold midst the heather in the glen.

When it comes to four-leaf clovers, they are so seldom found; but when walking through the grasses, we ALL still look around! There were never snakes in Ireland, and we know it's just folklore – but St. Patrick gets the credit for keeping safe the Emerald Shore! You can search out all of Las Vegas, and you'll find no Blarney Stone – but the Irish seem to kiss one, matters not where they call home! First Irish stew and Guinness – as more food and cocktails flow – then a shot of Irish Whiskey to end the day? . . . Who knows?!

Perhaps an Irish jig or two before the parties ends, and should they end up on the floor, it matters not, and then... there are soft warm hugs and kisses, and we bid a fond good-bye to the day we ALL are Irish, chasing rainbows in the sky. Your name need not sound Irish, or your last name start with "O" – today it doesn't matter, 'tis the day when every name goes!

Your DNA's not in questions – it simply matters not; when Irish eyes are smiling, what matters is your heart. So here's your Irish blessing – and may the wind be at your back, and you find the luck of the Irish is something you never lack – May God forever hold you safely in the palm of His hand – may your days be ever plenty, and your life forever grand! . . . and as Irish eyes are smiling and steal your heart away – may the wind be at your back on this, St. Patrick's Day!

SECURITY PATROL

An Accidental Tale

How do those tales begin? Oh yes, once upon a time . . . there was a retired individual who bought a home in one of the best senior communities, Sun City Summerlin. This person enjoyed the new home and had plenty of opportunity to socialize with neighbors and others in the area. This person did exactly as asked at the new resident orientation and filled out the blue Emergency Contact Sheet which was turned into the Security Patrol Office. Perfect! So, the tale continues . . .

The new resident went about everyday life until one morning the shower beckoned and oh my goodness, this unlucky individual fell. Sadder yet, the poor soul could not get up! As the hours went by, the sun came up and then set, the person was still laying there. Imagine how terrified and anxious you would be. Finally, Sun City Security Patrol received a "please check resident" report. Alas, there were no local phone numbers to call on the Emergency Contact form. They could get no answer at the house, even working with friends for three hours. Metro and medics were called, and they broke through the door. Unfortunately, this is not a tale, but a true story! This individual should recover but it is a lesson for all of us. Keep in touch with your friends and neighbors so when you don't show your face, they would question your absence much sooner. Many of the Sun City residents live alone. Very important: have a local person on your Emergency Contact form who has access to your home. Possibly have some sort of life alert system or carry your cell phone with you the next time you are taking a nice relaxing shower. It doesn't take up much space. That would have made for a happier, speedier ending to this tale.

Security Patrol is so much more than you might think. We are the folks who want everyone to enjoy Sun City and have only carefree days. We are not the police; we are neighbors helping neighbors. If you think you may need Metro (police) or Fire and Rescue (medical) we can help you decide. Better yet if you know you need help, please call 911 first, and then call us. We have a unique position in our community. We care, we are committed, and we are on call 24/7!

If you would like to experience Security Patrol, there is a chance for you to "Ride Along", spend a few hours and see the inner workings of the office. Keep in mind that we are volunteers, working all hours of the day and night, week in, week out, all year long. We are proud of our team, what we do and the services we provide. Give a wave when one of the white cars with the flashing yellow lights drives by.

Get Connected

By Tammy Collins/Link

"I didn't know that." This is heard all too often in Sun City Summerlin, when in fact, the information is readily at hand by signing up to receive eblasts sent out by our Administration, subscribing to "Tuesday Newsday," visiting the Sun City Summerlin website, and reading the print edition of the "Link." They are all sources of Sun City Summerlin authorized/official communications.

Eblasts provide the most current information from our Administration. A resident must sign up to receive eblasts which include notices about Zoom meetings enabling residents to virtually attend meetings of the Board of Directors, Standing Committees, updates from our Metro, and Covid updates. Our IT (Information Technology) staff, enables us to sit-in and contribute to our Executive Director's Friday Afternoon Chats and Coffee with the Board. Truly important are the last minute notices of closures, cancellations, and alerts that are available by signing up for eblasts.

How does one sign up for eblasts? It is an easy process. Just send an email to our Executive Director, Mitzi Mills, at mitzim@suncitylv.com. In the subject line state "Sign Me Up," and in the message include your name, email address, Sun City Summerlin address, and telephone number. Soon you should begin receiving eblasts.

"Tuesday Newsday" is a reminder that a new edition of the on-line "Link" is available each Tuesday at suncitylink.com. To receive these reminders, go to suncitylink.com, scroll down to the bottom of the Home Page and sign up. This site also provides links to our community's Facebook, Instagram, and YouTube sites.

Each week, "Tuesday Newsday" lists "Picks of the Week" offering suggestions for a special event each day of the upcoming week. "Community" lists timely notices of events such as golf events, when The Summit is closed for private events, monthly specials at our restaurants-- Tavern at the Falls and The Summit, and schedules for such happenings as AARP income tax preparation. The "Clubs" page provides a weekly schedule of club activities. "Classifieds" include items for sale (including photos), real estate for rent or sale, and freebies (where residents can post items to be given away). It is under "Classifieds" that estate and moving sales for the following weekend are posted each Thursday—complete with maps for these sales' locations.

It is at suncitylink.com that it is often possible to download the following month's "Link" print edition days before receiving it in the mail. Just scroll to the bottom of the "Home" page for the most current edition of the print version of the "Link." Also available at this location is the current map of Sun City Summerlin.

The Sun City Summerlin website (suncitysummerlin.com) is presently being updated. Watch for the new format.

The print edition of the "Link" is mailed to every Sun City Summerlin homeowner and to those residents who have purchased a Renter's Card. This publication contains so much information. And the blue pages contain official Sun City business including Board of Directors' actions and financial statements.

So never be the one who says, "I didn't know that." Get connected and be "in the know."

CLUB SPOTLIGHT

PHOTOGRAPHY CLUB

Blending the Past with the Future

Sun City was founded over three decades ago and during that time advances in computer and cell phone technology, including photography, occurred. The times are dramatically different.

The Sun City Photography Club was gradually evolving, but one week after our March 2020 meeting COVID canceled everyone's ability to meet in person. We were in quarantine but quickly learned to use Zoom. Our April 2020 meeting was held, and we continued meeting only on Zoom until July 2021, when we had our first "dual format" meeting both at Desert Vista and Zoom.

We continue to hold our meetings both, in-person, and via Zoom. This expands our ability to communicate with our members who now are able to attend meetings from anywhere.

"A picture is worth a thousand words"

Photography is a very efficient way of communicating a reality that we either experience or perceive. When we were young, the ability to take high quality photos required heavy cameras; knowledge of film speed, f-stops, shutter speed, focus, framing, and then the film had to be developed. Many times, a picture remained in your camera for weeks, until the last exposure on the roll was taken.

Today almost everyone carries around a high quality camera that can send a photo, or video, around the world in a matter of minutes. Newsworthy photos taken by cell phones have changed laws and have given us the ability to experience things that few, if any of us, could have imagined even 30 years ago.

The photography club blends the past with the future. We invite anyone, even if you just want to learn how to take a better photo with your cell phone, to join. We also invite back former photo club members. We would love you to share the history and tell us how technology has changed the way you photograph

now. All are invited.

We meet at 6:30 p.m., the second Thursday of the month in Desert Vista and via Zoom. Feel free to check out our website at: <https://www.photography-sclsv.club/p/about-club.html> or you can call Norman Wright at (702) 255-5545.

Golf, Women's

With, hopefully, winter's chill and Covid's curse in the rear view mirror, we can now get on with life as we love it! Playing golf kept us sane throughout the pandemic and, if anything, our off the course time gave us moments to reflect how fortunate we are to be here in Sun City Summerlin. Joining now, at the beginning of the season, is a great time to polish up your clubs and meet our golfing ladies. To do so, contact our VP, Diane Riggs, and she will hook you up with a buddy and you'll be on your way. Email her at nanadriggs@gmail.com. Come play with us!!
